Former Minister Wu Ting Fang
Announces That He Has Joined Revolution

Reports That Peking Had Fallen and
Emperor and Regent Fled
Are Denied

PEKING, Nov. 7.—General Wu, a brilliant young military officer, who was recently appointed Governor of Shan Si province, was assassinated at 1 o'clock this morning. He was asleep in his tent at the military encampment at Shikai Chuang when thirty Manchus soldiers rushed in past the guard and murdered him.

When officers of the general's staff arrested the Manchus the latter stated that Wu had gone over to the revolutionists and was secretly betraying the Manchus.

General Wu Liberal in Views

General Wu was educated in Japan and had risen rapidly since his return to China. He was liberal in his views and was always credited with sympathy with reform movements, though he was not an extremist.

The general, whose full name was Wu Lu-Cheng, reported to the government a few days ago that he could persuade the Shen-Si tribes to accept the constitution outlined by the national assembly, but at that time suspicion was current that the general himself was a revolutionist. His attitude since has been a matter of some concern to the Manchus. He is a native of Hupeh province and in April, 1910, was made deputy lieutenant-general of the Bordered Red Mongol Banner.

Viceroy Commits Suicide

NAN KING, China, Nov. 7, 11 p. m.—The Viceroy at Nan King committed suicide tonight. The situation is serious. The Viceroy's instructions from Peking had ordered him not to resist the revolutionists by force, but to surrender peacefully. The Tartar general commanding the Manchu troops refused to obey these orders. A condition of panic prevails.

Deny Peking's Fall
and Say City Is Safe

PEKING, Nov. 7.—Reports that this city has fallen into the hands of the revolutionists are without foundation. There has been no fighting whatsoever here and there is no evidence that the Emperor or the regent have fled. Prince Ching continues to act as premier pending the arrival of Yuan Shi Kai.

Nor is there any indication that Peking is endangered. Foreigners in the various legations think it will be the last of the important cities to go. The presence of many Manchu princes indicates their belief that Peking is the safest place in the Empire.

The imperial government has concentrated here all the old loyal and faithful troops in the army and has carefully shut all the doubtful regiments far from the city.

The Emperor's personal guard is an army division numbering ten thousand men, all Manchus. A number of officers of the Chinese first division are likewise Manchus and the citizens are mostly members of the same race.

As for the old-style troops that camp outside the city walls they are Chinese, but are of a type which are honored by the Manchus in the title of "bannermen" because their ancestors aided the Manchus conquerors against their own people. There is no question as to the loyalty of these troops.

In case of emergency the Manchus leaders and the court will probably seek refuge in the legation quarter here or in the foreign settlements at Tien Tsin.

Premier Named by National Assembly

PEKING, Nov. 7, 6:42 p. m.—Garrisoned and policed by loyal troops, the capital remained tonight undisturbed by the rebels. The general feeling of nervousness was betrayed when a fire broke out in the quarters occupied by the board of ceremonies. For a time the Chinese believed the flames were a revolutionary signal for an uprising and they were thrown into a panic.

The National Assembly, by virtue of the powers bestowed on it by the recent edict, formally appointed Yuan Shi Kai premier.

The question of his permanency in the office was discussed, but it was decided that the assembly had no authority to guarantee this beyond the election of a parliament. It was, however, resolved to assure Yuan of the assembly's continued support.

A mass meeting was held at Tien-

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—State Printer W. W. Shannon denied here today a report in a morning newspaper that he had decided to resign his office as the result of charges made against his administration of the state printing affairs by the board of control. Big Wheat Bid Is Rejected

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—A. J. Lichstern, who is credited with being one of the largest holders of cash wheat, sold 100,000 bushels of No. 2 red winter wheat to millers today at 5 1/2 cents under the May option. These are his own terms after having refused a remarkable offer from the millers for five million bushels under

$600,000 IS OFFERED
FOR HOTEL ST. MARK

Negotiations Pending for Sale of Oakland Property to
Rich Easterners

Negotiations are now pending for the sale of the Hotel St. Mark at a figure between $500,000 and $600,000, between Martin E. Marks, the owner, and a coterie of eastern capitalists who offered a tempting price last Thursday for the property. While the deal has not yet been consummated, it is understood that it hinges only upon the willingness of the would-be purchasers to lease the premises to Marks after the change in ownership.

"Both the other party and myself are now considering the deal," said Marks today. "Their offer has been a tempting one and while I would be willing, perhaps, to sell the property, I would want to retain a lease of the hotel and this is a proposition that the other people are now deliberating upon. I realize that the property is valuable and that it will enhance in value in the future. However, as a business proposition, I have considered the offer and if we can come to terms the deal will be consummated in a short time."

Just who made the offer Marks refused to divulge, declaring that at this time the parties desired their names be not mentioned in connection with the deal.

Firebugs Attempt to Destroy Klamath Falls

KLAMATH FALLS, Nov. 7.—Klamath Falls spent last night amidst flames. Incendiaries set fire to valuable property in four different places in the city within four hours. The total loss will reach $25,000.

At 11 o'clock last night the Goolier planing mill on windy side of Acley Brothers' sawmill, containing all of the season's cut, was discovered to be on fire. Hundreds of fire were started in the lumber, but were extinguished by spectators. The loss in this fire was $10,000.

Two hours later a fire started in the Klamath stables, destroying it and much baled hay. At 3 o'clock this morning fire started at the other end of town in the Wall & Brewery warehouse, doing great damage.

At 5 o'clock fire started near the Big Basin Lumber Company's yards. The firemen were exhausted and the fire hose was all out in various parts of the city where the earlier fires had raged. The fire resulted in damage of over $5,000.

The people were wild and many shots were taken at supposed firebugs, but no one was hit.

his price. It also was announced that within the last week he had disposed of 4,000,000 bushels without being forced to alter his terms. The 5,000,000-bushel bid, possibly the largest ever made for a single transaction in wheat, was refused by Lichstern because the figures did not meet his views by 7-8c a bushel.

Reconciliation Is Said to Have Been Effected by Contractor and His Wife

Arraignment of the Brother,
Accused of Setting Fire to House, Held Today

William D. Hubbard's sensational suit for a divorce from Fannie F. Hubbard, on account of her alleged undue friendship for Charles F. B. Hubbard, brother of the former, has been dismissed in the Superior Court by Attorney H. J. Piersol, representing the plaintiff. Coinciding with the dismissal Charles F. B. Hubbard, who is accused in the criminal department of the Superior Court of causing the fire which on September 21, partially destroyed the home of the brother whose marital happiness he was charged with wrecking, located at 2491 Thirteenth avenue, appeared before Judge William S. Wells this forenoon for arraignment for arson.

There were fourteen other county jail prisoners in the dock when Hubbard's case was called and the latter faced the judge. The accused man announced that he had retained Attorney Philip M. Walsh as his counsel and requested, in view of the fact that his lawyer was not present, that his arraignment be set over for a day. Judge Wells continued the matter until tomorrow morning and Hubbard was returned to his cell in the county jail.

COUPLE RECONCILED.

The dismissal of the divorce suit by William D. Hubbard followed a reconciliation between the prosperous contractor and his wife after the attempted burning of the Thirteenth avenue home and the arrest of his brother on a charge of applying the torch to the house. It was effected by Hubbard, according to the best available information, for the sake of the children, but not before the aggrieved husband was reasonably certain that the brother whom he believed was responsible for the loss of his wife's love and the partial destruction of his home by fire was under a charge of arson.

There has been some talk in court circles that Hubbard, the alleged firebug, would plead guilty to the crime that hangs over him in Judge Wells' court, but the fact that he has engaged the services of Attorney Walsh indicates that he intends to fight the information against him.

SAY HE CONFESSED.

At the time of his arrest for arson Charles B. F. Hubbard, according to the police, confessed to Captain of Detectives Walter J. Petersen that he was responsible for the attempted burning of his brother's residence. The latter had named the prisoner as co-respondent with Mrs. Hubbard in his complaint for a divorce and the day after the fire the aggrieved husband told Captain Petersen that three weeks before his wife had disappeared from home and gone to San Francisco and that about the same time his brother, who had been living at the Death of Mrs. M. E. Miller

Comes as Shock to Many

PIEDMONT, Nov. 7.—The death last night of Mrs. M. E. Miller of Seelye avenue came as an unexpected shock to her family and friends. Her demise resulted from burns received the first week in November when the back of her dress was set ablaze by a spark from a rubbish pile in the yard. In attempting to extinguish the flames the Japanese servant turned the hose on Mrs. Miller until her daughter, Minnet, arrived with rugs and smothered the flames. Her injuries at the time, while serious, were not considered fatal, and she seemed to be slowly improving until a day or two ago. Mrs. Miller was highly esteemed in Piedmont, where she had resided for little over a year. She was an active member of the Interdenominational

Error or Theft is Question to Be

Big Financial Concern

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—It is reported in financial circles that a teller in one of the largest banks in the city is short in his cash by over $100,000. The matter is only discussed in whispers because of the prominence of the bank and the fact that the investigation is not yet ended. The shortage may prove only a discrepancy, but how a discrepancy of such magnitude could occur in a teller's accounts is not explained.

Needless to say, the rumor has started a lively discussion, and will probably cause a general overhauling in the other banks in the city. The bank involved in the story is one of the big commercial banks.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 7.—When Judge A. Anderson of the United States District Court was advised today that the Federal grand jury had been denied access to certain books of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, he ordered the United States marshal to go to a trust company where the books were deposited and take possession of them.

The books were turned over to the marshal by the officers of the trust company when they were notified of Judge Anderson's order. The grand jury proceeded this afternoon with an examination of the books in the course of an investigation as to whether John J. McNamara, James B. McNamara and Orrie E. McManigal had violated a Federal statute governing interstate transportation of explosives.

Negro Smothered to Death in Cotton Seed

EL CENTRO, Cal., Nov. 7.—W. K. Kennedy, a negro, disobeyed orders today and as the result was smothered to death when cotton seed caved in upon him while he was at work at the cotton seed oil company's mill here.

Several days ago Kennedy was caught in the cotton seed and was buried up to his neck when rescued. At that time he was warned to keep from the sides.

He disobeyed orders today and his death followed. His body was found in an upright position under ten feet of cotton seed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—John Nealon, the young extra letter carrier who found it easier to dump the suffragists' election mail in a vacant lot rather than to deliver it on his route, was sentenced by Judge De Haven this morning to ninety days in the Alameda county jail. The small punishment was given in consideration of the fact that Nealon claims to have been intoxicated and also because the United States district attorney joined in a plea for clemency.

OSTEOPATHY

What Some People Think of it

That Osteopathy is a science and has assumed a foremost place in the ranks of the healing methods is acknowledged by the reasoning and thinking public. The opinion of some of the foremost thinkers in our country of Osteopathy as a science and its efficacy as a healing method is shown by the following:

Ella Wheeler Wilcox, America's well-known magazine writer, says: "That some operations are necessary no one with good common sense will deny. That not over one operation in ten which takes place today is needed, I firmly believe. If you are thinking of putting yourself under the knife at the suggestion of your physician, let me urge you to go first and consult a good osteopathic physician."

Hon. H. F. Pingree, Governor of Michigan, who signed the bill legalizing osteopathy in that state, after a thorough and careful official investigation, said:

"Osteopathy is a science entitled to all respect and confidence as a distinct advance in medicine. I know that it is doing a vast amount of good in relieving suffering and deformity that is not amenable to benefit from drug medicine."

Wm. F. Dillingham, ex-Governor and United States Senator from Vermont, said:

"I have employed practitioners of that school to treat members of my family, and have been particularly pleased with results. I firmly believe that this practice is based on scientific principles and is an advance on medical science."

T. Preston of the commission reported 8000 admissions at the first municipal playground established at the city hall.

Preston stated that it would require six months to prepare data and educate the citizens as to the need for a sufficient number of small playgrounds.

Commissioner Turner was instructed to confer with the Southern Pacific relative to the establishment of warning bells along its electric local lines near school houses.

SHOWER OF BALLOTS FALLING TODAY EXTENDS FROM PACIFIC TO ATLANTIC AND THROUGHOUT MIDDLE WEST

California, New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, New Mexico, Kentucky, Ohio, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Utah and Kansas Freeholders Vote for Either State and Municipal Officers, or for Both

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Although indications are that the vote will be unusually heavy at the municipal election here today, uneasiness shown among supporters of the Union Labor candidates on the count of the fact that so far the polling has been light in the workingmen's districts. While party lines have not been clearly drawn in the campaign, which has shown unusual racial complications, the labor vote has been claimed by Charles M. Fickert, candidate for the office of District Attorney, and to some extent conceded by his opponents.

During the closing days of the contest the most important issue having been eliminated by the election of James Rolph Jr. to the mayoralty in the primary election, interest has centered in the election of Fickert and Ralph M. Hathorn, the latter having the endorsement of both the Republican and Democratic organizations. In the shrewdly calculated supporters of Sheriff Fickert declare their candidate is leading Frank Erick Duggers, the other claimant for the office.

The weather is perfect, and the prediction is made that the registrar's office that the vote will total 70,000 of a total registration of about 102,000. Women are not voting.

Very Heavy Vote Is Cast in Sacramento

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 7.—Unusually heavy voting marked the morning hours of the municipal election held today to elect a board of nine trustees, several school directors and to decide the fate of the proposed new charter which provides for a commission form of government modeled after the Des Moines and Galveston plans.

In one precinct four times the number of votes polled at a similar hour at the last election had been polled at 8 o'clock.

Betting is about evenly divided between Sutcliffe, the insurgent Republican candidate for mayor, and Beard, Democratic incumbent.

New Mexico Holds First State Election

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 7.—With nearly 1000 candidates of eleven sorts to be elected today, the early vote in New Mexico's first full election as a state was heavy. While the usual claims of certain victory were made by partisans, impartial students of the situation declared that the outcome could not be forecasted because of the multiplicity of candidates on state, county and judicial tickets, the enormity of the race issue, and the numerous state and national issues involved.

While New Mexico is normally Republican by 6000 out of a 50,000-vote, the defection of the so-called progressive Republicans and the stand of the prohibitionists against the regular Republican candidates thickened the clouds of uncertainty. There is in addition the "blue ballot," which is to decide whether the constitution is to be more easily amended.

Managers for W. C. McDonald, Democratic candidate for governor, and his Republican opponent, H. O. Burson, professed satisfaction over the early vote. Two Congressmen are to be chosen and the Legislature will be called upon to choose two United States Senators.

VOTES CAST EARLY.

By noon one-third of the total vote had been cast. Much delay was caused by the voting on the constitutional amendment, and it was feared that in some precincts the polls would close before every vote was cast. In this part of the territory the vote at noon to make the constitution more easily amendable was five out of every six against the proposition.

There was heavy "scratching" of individuals on the tickets which provide for 30 to 35 places to be held, done mostly by the progressive Republicans.

Chicago Safeguards Municipal Election

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Extraordinary precautions were taken today to prevent fraudulent voting at the judiciary election in Chicago and Cook county. The polls were guarded heavily.

Besides the regular details of police, County Judge Owens and Assistant State's Attorney Marshall each were given command over details of detectives to guard all polling places. The Superior court judges and one Circuit court judge are being chosen. Voting was light during the morning, scarcely 30 per cent of the usual vote being cast. One man in the First ward was arrested while trying to vote the name of Albert Smith, registered from a downtown lodging house that had been disqualified by the election commission.

Rain of Ballots in State of New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—A million and a half of ballots that began to rain into the boxes and click through the voting machines today will demonstrate tonight whether the Empire State has remained true to its Democratic preferences expressed a year ago or gone back to the party of President Taft.

A possible change of political sentiment is the only general interest attached to the contest, and the only state officers to be elected are members of the lower House of the legislature. To maintain their supremacy the assembly the Democrats will have to re-elect members in 65 of the 150 districts.

New York city elects a new board of aldermen and supreme court justices in the First and Second judicial districts. Thirty-four upstate cities choose new mayors and other municipal officers. County officers are elected generally throughout the state.

HEARST A FACTOR.

Since it is conceded that the New York City Democratic leaders control the dominant political machinery of the state, the count tonight will indicate in a measure who will rule the New York delegation in the Democratic national convention.

In New York city Tammany Hall faces a fusion of the Republicans and the element controlled by William F. Hearst, together with several so-called independent organizations. General uncertainty over the result has been shown by the lack of betting.

Local upstate contests that are attracting general attention are in the Third and Fourth districts, where the anti-Tammany Democratic leader, is running for mayor, and in Albany, where the Republican city and county administration is being probed by the usual claims of certain victory were made by partisans, impartial students of the situation declared that the outcome could not be forecasted because of the multiplicity of candidates on state, county and judicial tickets, the enormity of the race issue, and the numerous state and national issues involved.

EARLY RETURNS CERTAIN.

The use of voting machines in the state has increased rapidly of late years, and the result in many cities will be known soon after the polls close at 8 o'clock.

In many parts of the state last night left the country roads badly mired. The rain had stopped at 6 o'clock when the polls opened in New York, but the weather remained threatening.

In New York city the fusion movement against Tammany Hall brought out a heavy vote. The balloting proceeded peacefully except in two election districts where the police broke up the riotous mobs and there was almost a riot when the mistake was discovered.

Marylanders Vote for State Officers

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7.—A full state ticket, one-half the Senate membership and all the members of the lower branch of the Legislature are being voted for in Maryland today.

In addition, many of the counties are electing county officers. There also is a constitutional amendment designed to disfranchise the negro, being voted on.

Philadelphia Holds Mayoralty Election

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—Indications today were that an unprecedented vote would be polled for the mayoralty candidates, George H. Earle Jr., who has the support of United States Senator Penrose and the Republican organization, and Rudolph Blankenberg, who heads a fusion ticket.

Voters of Kentucky Choosing Governor

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 7.—The voters of Kentucky are going to the polls today better canvassed than for years. A close race is expected between the candidates for governor, Judge Edward O'Rear, member of the State Court of Appeals, for the Republicans, and James B. McCreary, former

Heavy Vote in Second Kansas District

KANSAS CITY, Kans., Nov. 7.—With ideal fall weather, clear and crisp, an unusually heavy vote is being polled today in the second Kansas district. Prince and a Congressman is to be elected to succeed the late A. C. Mitchell. The interest centers in the race between Joseph Taggart, Democratic candidate, and U. S. Guver, progressive Republican. Both the Democratic and Republican committees seem confident of success.

Spirited Voting at Dayton, Ohio, Polls

DAYTON, O., Nov. 7.—The voting spirited at the opening of the polls today. Principal interest is centered in the mayoralty contest. Socialists claim they will elect a councilman in one or two wards. The weather is clear and bracing.

Rain Falls on the Voters of Toledo

TOLEDO, Nov. 7.—With a slight drizzle, falling when the polls opened today, the prospects for a heavy vote went a glimmering, according to the politicians. In addition to the fight waged against Mayor Whitely, independent, for election for the fourth time, by State Senator Carl H. Keller, Republican, considerable interest has been aroused over the selection of three delegates to the constitutional convention to be held in January.

Opinion favors the election today of Mayor Whitely for a fourth term, but with a reduced plurality.

Park Leads in Salt Lake City Election

SALT LAKE, Nov. 7.—An exceptionally heavy vote was cast here up to 12 o'clock, and indications are that Samuel C. Park, "citizen candidate," will defeat John S. Bransford, incumbent, and "American" party candidate for mayor of Salt Lake City. Bransford's campaign managers admitted at noon that two votes had been polled for the citizens' ticket.

The "American" candidates. They announce they still hope to win. Four commissioners and an auditor also will be elected.

New Jersey Voters Ballot on Senators

TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 7.—New Jersey is voting today for members of the lower House of the State Assembly and for eight State Senators. The Senate is elected by popular vote.

Las Vegas Vote Was Heavy at Noon Hour

LAS VEGAS, N. M., Nov. 7.—At noon considerably over one-third of the registered vote had been cast here. This county is expected to go Republican by about 1000 majority.

Massachusetts Vote Is Unusually Heavy

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—The early voting in Boston was light. The Democratic managers had no carriages or automobiles to get out the vote. The Republicans, however, fearing apathy on the part of their supporters, were well equipped with conveyances.

The early vote in the thirty-three counties was unusually heavy for an off year. Voting in Boston was generally heavy after the earlier hours.

'BRIGHAM YOUNG TRAY' HAS RIVAL

Battleship Utah Given Second Piece of Silver Minus Mormon's Picture.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—There was another presentation ceremony aboard the battleship Utah when the National Anti-Mormon committee gave the ship a silver tray which they hoped would be used instead of one bearing a small picture of Brigham Young, early leader of the Mormon church.

The "Brigham Young Tray" as the committee called it, was presented yesterday with 115 pieces of the magnificent service silver by the ship's command.

In place of the pictures of Brigham Young and the Mormon temple which appear on the tray, the ship's command bears the symbolic figure of a girl, representing Utah. The tray bore the inscription:

"Presented to the U. S. Battleship Utah, by members of the American party of the State of Utah, as an expression of their loyalty to the State and the constitution and democratic customs of the United States of America."

The ceremony was in the main saloon of the Utah at the navy yard.

SPREAD OF STRIKE IS FEARED IN THE EAST

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—The spread of the railroad shopmen's strike to the Central of Georgia railway and the calling of a strike on the Rock Island are matters of only a few days, according to W. W. Kilmer, president of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers today. As to conditions on the Rock Island he said:

"Matters are near a crisis. The votes of the various crafts on acceptance or rejection of the proposals of the company have been taken, and the company's terms and this actually amounts to a strike vote."

HUBBARD SUIT COMES TO END

Husband and Wife Said to Have Reconciled Their Differences.

When the captain of detectives had Mrs. Hubbard brought before him she is alleged to have told him that her brother-in-law had said to her in a conversation that he felt like "getting" his elder brother for the way he had treated his wife and for naming him in the divorce complaint. With this to work upon the police are said to have obtained a story from Charles Hubbard, then a detainee prisoner at the city prison, that has been construed as a confession.

Charles Hubbard said that he went into the basement of the house about 1 o'clock on the night of the fire to look among some lumber for a ring he had lost. He lighted many matches, he said, to search for the ring and that in all probability, one of them was what caused the fire.

"That is a pure story," Captain Petersen said. "As a matter of fact I did not go down there to set fire to the house."

"Well, I don't care what you say. Put it down if you like that I set fire to the house. But Mrs. Hubbard had nothing to do with it and I don't know that anybody in the house had any intention of taking anybody's life. I'm not guilty of that."

This statement was in connection with the fact that Hubbard's brother was asleep in the house at the time the fire started and narrowly escaped cremation, getting out of the burning building in his night clothes and just in time to save himself.

All three of the parties who are implicated in this drama are middle-aged and only a few years ago Mrs. Hubbard was one of the most charming and vivacious club and society women of Oakland. Her husband is a successful contractor. Mrs. Hubbard enjoyed society, theaters and social life in general, but says she found that she had married a man whose tastes were brutal and along the lines of the "simple life." The difference in temperament caused friction and domestic jars until the couple came to live under the same roof as strangers.

Charles B. F. Hubbard appeared upon the scene and this friendship, according to William D. Hubbard's divorce complaint, brought about the destruction of his marital happiness and finally led to his brother's arrest as a firebug.

HOPE TO SECURE BIG NAVAL DOCK

Oakland and San Francisco People Work Together to That End.

The executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce at its meeting this afternoon decided to send delegates to meet with members of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and other civic organizations about San Francisco bay to discuss plans to secure for this section the location of the great docks which the navy department will establish on the coast. The meeting will be held in the rooms of the Commercial club, the Merchants' Exchange building, San Francisco, and will be preceded by a luncheon on Wednesday, November 15, at 12:30 p. m.

The navy department has announced the location of one great dry dock on the coast, a dry dock large enough to accommodate any vessel afloat. The only possible locations, it is claimed, are San Francisco bay and the Puget sound. The former is favored, it is understood, by the secretary of the navy, but the Puget sound people are putting up a fierce campaign for the docks and it is now proposed to organize the California people for the Puget sound location. The establishment of the docks here would, it is claimed, mean a great development for Mare Island, the increased employment of many mechanics and a general impetus to industry on the coast.

American Consul at Tripoli Says He Stands in No Need of Help.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The scout cruiser Chester, which was sent from Malta to Tripoli by the state department for the avowed purpose of ascertaining the extent of the cholera outbreak, has completed her mission and is on her way to Marselles.

American Consul at Tripoli said he stood in no need of help and rather than jeopardize the health of the ship's company, he had decided to leave Marselles, which is reported free from cholera.

Many Problems Confront Chinese

LONDON, Nov. 7.—The Times Peking correspondent, discussing the situation there says today:

"Should the revolutionary leaders consent to the retention of the monarchy, the situation will be simplified, but if the extreme view prevails and Yuan Shi Kai presses for a republic, China will be involved in inextricable difficulties before us, but we must win. We guarantee an adherence to foreign treaties, whether they were made unilaterally or fairly. We will pay our obligations to foreign nations and open up all the ports of China to foreign trade. Thus will be guaranteed an enormous advantage to all foreigners as well as to China."

Dr. Wu said that he fully understood the reform movement might lead in any direction, even to anarchy, but all the people of China were prepared to show the world the real power of the Chinese for orderly conduct, self-restraint and loyalty to a fair and honest government."

TO MEET OBLIGATIONS.

"I admit there are tremendous difficulties before us, but we must win. We guarantee an adherence to foreign treaties, whether they were made unilaterally or fairly. We will pay our obligations to foreign nations and open up all the ports of China to foreign trade. Thus will be guaranteed an enormous advantage to all foreigners as well as to China."

NEW CITY PARK TO BE PURCHASED

Residents of Santa Fe Tract to Have 3-Acre "Breathing Spot."

A new public park is to be purchased by the city of Oakland, in fulfillment of promises made over four years ago and deferred from time to time with the residents of the Santa Fe tract. The park contains about three acres and is situated in a triangle bounded by Webster, Fifty-second and Grove streets, with an apex at Fifty-third. It will cost the city approximately $7500.

The request was made to the city council for the park this morning by the Santa Fe Improvement Club through its president, William Shaw. Mayor Frank S. Mott declared that the city was pledged by honor bond to obtain a park for this district, and recommended that a resolution be passed that the city should purchase the park, making a small payment at the start the balance to be paid on the installment plan.

was first sent to Washington in 1897, remaining there until 1902, when he was recalled. He returned to the same post in 1907, and was again recalled in 1909. For a time he appeared to have been relegated permanently to private life, but in August, 1910, he was made councillor to the Chinese foreign office.

ADVANCED IDEAS.

His advanced ideas have not always harmonized with the material policy and it has been no secret that recently he has not wholly sympathized with the throne. He is the most important figure that has appeared on the revolutionary stage during the last few days. Rumors that Wu Ting Fang had espoused the rebel cause were received with incredulity.

When the rebels proclaimed a provisional government at Shanghai he was made head of the foreign bureau, but the appointment was not taken seriously, and as late as yesterday he declined to acknowledge any participation in the revolutionary administration. Dr. Wu's appointment is expected to have a far-reaching effect.

At his residence within the foreign settlement of Shanghai, Dr. Wu outlined plans and hopes of the reformers in China. Wen Tsung Yao, formerly imperial resident at L'Hassa, Thibet, who has been appointed assistant director of foreign affairs in the new government, was present when the statement was made.

FOR CHINA'S WELFARE.

Dr. Wu said that while he was loath to accept office, he hesitated because of his former close connection with the Manchu government, he was forced to aid the cause of China. He announced that Cheng Te-Chuang, the governor of Soe Chow and former governor at Mukden, who was the first governor to come to the reformers, had been elected governor of the entire province of Kiang-Su.

Cheng Te-Chuang, he said, was a strong man and would be able to control the rebels and guarantee the safety of foreigners. Ninety per cent of the population, he said, was supporting the present status. Dr. Wu continued:

"Personally, I favored a limited monarchy, retaining the emperor as a figurehead, with a strong Chinese cabinet and constitution, but the prevailing opinion appears to be for a republic."

"In each province a governor will be selected, each city and town giving its allegiance to the new government. The whole people of China, north and south, are united against Manchu supremacy and the government of Peking, which is corrupt and prone to be oppressive."

TO MEET OBLIGATIONS.

"I admit there are tremendous difficulties before us, but we must win. We guarantee an adherence to foreign treaties, whether they were made unilaterally or fairly. We will pay our obligations to foreign nations and open up all the ports of China to foreign trade. Thus will be guaranteed an enormous advantage to all foreigners as well as to China."

BEAUTIFUL, LUSTROUS, HEAVY HAIR AND NO DANDRUFF OR ITCHY SCALP

Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine and just try this—stops falling hair at once

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is sure evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp which if not remedied will cause the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine tonight—now—anytime—will save your hair. Ten minutes after applying all the dandruff will disappear, all itching will cease and there will be no more falling hair. Millions of men and women use Knowlton's Danderine and they never have dandruff, itchy scalp or falling hair—they know that it keeps the scalp clean and healthy and makes the hair grow heavy, long and beautiful.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, and what will please you most, it will be better just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 7.—An Italian cruiser bombarded the town of Akadab, Arabia, Sunday, sinking the Turkish gunboat Italdji, which was lying in port.

The second officer of the gunboat was killed, but the others on board escaped. Subsequently the cruiser shelled the nilly portion of the town. The extent of the damage is not stated.

Aeroplane Locates Turkish Headquarters

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—With the aid of an aeroplane the Italian troops at Tripoli have located the headquarters of the Turkish army and ascertained that the forces are considerably diminished, according to an official dispatch received by the Italian ambassador today. The Italian minister of war cables that the Turkish artillery was repulsed November 5 in attacks on both the eastern lines of the Italian defensive Tripoli and the Italian left wing. The Italian dispatch states further that the spirit of the Italian troops is high, while the Arabs show dissatisfaction with the Turks and have committed several acts of rebellion.

BERKELEY 'KIDS' FIND CHAMPION IN HOFF

BERKELEY, Nov. 7.—Christian Hoff, commissioner of public health and safety, defended the children when a communication from Mrs. R. A. Wilson, protesting against coaters being run in the city council today.

"I believe in letting the children enjoy themselves," said Hoff.

"Yes, but if you had been knocked down from behind once or twice by one of these coaters, you wouldn't be so enthusiastic over them," interpolated L. B. Norton, commissioner of public supplies.

Mrs. Wilson's protest was referred to Hoff.

SUFFRAGISTS HAVE NO FEAR OF LOSING BALLOT

BERKELEY, Nov. 7.—Berkeley suffragists, of whom Mrs. William Keith is a leader, are not disturbed over the plan of the Women's Initiative League to secure the repeal of the suffrage amendment. Mrs. Keith said today:

"Men don't give up their liberties once they have gained them, and I am sure women will never do so, for it is distinctly a womanly quality to hold to what has been gained, whether she considers the object desirable or not."

"Personally, I do not care for a recall. Even though the interests, such as the railroad and other powers, opposed woman's suffrage, the amendment would not be an easy task to handle. While they declare they did not bring their full strength into play at the last election, they were fighting the very recall measure which they may now seek to use."

Miss Blanche Morse, president of the Civic League of Women Voters, is equally confident that the right of franchise will never be taken from women.

MILL BURNS IN EARLY HOURS TOTAL WAVE OF CRIME ALARMS

United Engineering Works Is Endangered by Mysterious $10,000 Blaze

Fire Tug and Locomotive Aid Alameda Department; Signal Wires Destroyed

Fire of mysterious origin destroyed a planing mill in the yards of the United Engineering Works, on the Alameda marsh at the south end of the Webster street draw bridge, at 6 o'clock this morning, entailing a loss that will reach $10,000. It required strenuous efforts on the part of the Alameda fire department, assisted by the Southern Pacific fire tug Ajax, a yard fire locomotive and the Alaska Packers' fire tug Phoenix to prevent the destruction of the entire plant, together with lumber yards and a large amount of shipping in the immediate vicinity.

The Southern Pacific signal system, on the electric lines was placed out of commission through destruction of wires that were strung along the tracks, passing close to the burning building. In the mill was more than $2000 worth of finished furniture and fittings intended for the recently launched Standard Oil Company steamer, Petroleum No. 2. The destruction of the furniture will cause a serious delay in the completion of the vessel.

FIRE TUG SENT.
When the alarm was first turned in the Alameda fire department was promptly on the scene. Realizing the danger of a great conflagration, Assistant Superintendent W. H. Norton, on duty at the Oakland pier, sent the Southern Pacific fire tug to the scene and later a locomotive equipped with fire fighting apparatus. The Alaska Packers' tug also responded and the blaze was subdued. Owing to the lack of fire hydrants in the vicinity, it was necessary to pump water from the bay. The plant maintained by the ship-building company was used to great advantage, but it was only by heroic effort that the fire was kept from spreading throughout the yards and into adjacent property.

ORDER INQUIRY.
The officials of the company have ordered a strict investigation into the cause of the disaster. R. Campbell, one of the nightwatchmen employed in the yards, had passed through the planing mill but twenty minutes before the blaze was discovered about 5:30 o'clock. At that time there had been no indication of smoke in the place. Campbell had just turned in his O. K. at the alarm box in the building. It is the belief of the officials that some person had taken advantage of the fact to touch a match, allowing plenty of time for the blaze to gain headway.

L. Wilhelmson, superintendent of the company, in speaking of the fire, said this morning:
"We were fortunate in that the whole works was not destroyed. There was hardly a breath of wind at the time, and to this we attribute our narrow escape. The Alameda fire department deserves a great deal of credit for the manner in which they fought the blaze and are extremely grateful for the assistance rendered by the Southern Pacific and the Alaska Packers' Association officials. Our loss will be a serious one, as it is, but it might have been much worse. The machinery and the furniture in the planing mill were insured, but the building itself will be a complete loss."

A large force of men under the direction of F. S. Starratt, signal supervisor for the railroad company, was engaged all morning in replacing the signal wires. In the meantime trains were run with difficulty and caution throughout the entire system.

Conference of Mayor and Police Officials Called to Take Needed Action

Three Hold-Ups, Eight Burglaries and Numerous Petty Crimes Stir City

Three hold-ups, one attempted robbery, eight burglaries and a host of minor thefts committed in the past 24 hours are items of the crime calendar, the first page of which is being examined with alarm by the higher officials of the Oakland police department and Mayor Frank K. Mott today. So great is the apprehension felt by the city officials that a special conference was held this afternoon to devise ways and means of meeting the situation. It is probable that a special letter will be issued to householders warning them to take precautions in locking doors and windows and in notifying the police immediately as to the presence in the neighborhood of suspicious characters.

According to the explanation of Walter J. Petersen, head of the department of criminal investigation, who was in conference with Mayor Mott this morning, the crime bill Oakland is being forced to pay is due to a number of causes. These causes are itemized as follows:

WINTER TO BLAME.
The approach of winter, which has resulted in an influx of crooks, yeggmen, burglars and highwaymen from the East, ready to take advantage of Californians while enjoying the milder winter climate of the Pacific Coast.

The immigration of thousands of workmen and others from the East and Middle West, from Canada and from Europe, which has already commenced as a result of the large activities heralding the big fair.

Mayor Frank K. Mott was in conference with Chief Adolbert Wilson and Captain of Detectives Petersen today, in his capacity of acting head of the department of public health and safety in the absence of Commissioner Fred C. Turner. Mayor Mott declared that he wanted something done in the way of preventing crime, as well as in that of detecting and punishing it after it has been committed.

EXPECT INCREASE.
It was explained that there are not sufficient police to handle the situation adequately, especially in some of the residence districts, and in the districts involved in the strike situation. Captain Petersen said:
"I can expect this crime wave to increase in volume for some weeks to come, from present indications. Just the reports that came in last night are enough to keep all the men of the criminal investigation department busy without a thought of prevention. They are tied up in the city hall here with many of the cases, and it is impossible to send them out on some of the cases in the outlying districts. The night before last John McKay was brutally beaten in West Oakland, and robbed of $60. Last night E. B. Stebbins was beaten by five thugs at Cypress and Eighth streets and robbed of $12."

MANY REPORTED.
Burglaries and other crimes against persons and property reported to the police last night and this morning are as follows:
E. B. Stebbins of Modesto was in West Oakland shortly after 10 o'clock last night and when at Eighth and Cypress streets he was attacked from behind by about five men, thrown to the ground and dragged to a dark portion of the street. There he was held down, one man clutching his throat while the others kicked and beat him, and $12 in coin and some small personal effects were taken from him. Stebbins was left in an unconscious condition. He was unable to give any description of his assailants.

An attempted robbery was reported by Louis O'Laure of the Atlantic house, 909 Franklin street, a $1500 diamond ring being taken and afterwards recovered by the police, the alleged thief being now in custody. Mrs. George March of 1007 San Pablo avenue reported to the police this morning that her home was entered by burglars, who used a skeleton key on the rear door. The place was ransacked and a pair of two-stone diamond earrings, a diamond shirt stud, a gold watch tassel and several cut glass dishes were stolen, the total loss being estimated at $200.

PULL OUT A HAIR

The Way to Tell Whether or Not Your Hair Is Diseased

Even if you have a luxuriant head of hair you may not know whether it is in a healthy condition or not. Ninety-eight per cent of the people need a hair tonic. You can make a test yourself that you can see and understand, which will tell you whether your hair is healthy or not. Pull a hair out of your head; if the bulb at the end of the root is white and shrunken, it proves that the hair is diseased and requires prompt treatment if its loss would be avoided. If the bulb is pink and full, the hair is healthy.

We want everyone whose hair requires treatment to try our Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We promise that it will not cost anything if it does not give satisfactory results. Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is designed to overcome dandruff, remove scalp irritation, stimulate the hair roots, lighten the hair already in the head, grow hair and eradicate baldness.

Out of 100 cases where it was given a thorough, conscientious test, it grew hair on 83 heads, which should be sufficient proof that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic contains extraordinary remedial and hair-growing qualities. It is because of our knowledge of this preparation and our sincere faith in its goodness that we want you to try it at our risk.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is a clean, clear preparation which does not grease, gum or thicken the hair, and it has a very pleasant odor. We have it in two sizes, prices 50c and $1.00 per bottle. You can obtain Rexall Remedies only at The Owl Owl Drug Co. stores in Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento, Portland, Seattle, Spokane.

KILLS HIMSELF IN BIG GOTHAM HOTEL

San Franciscan Found Dead in His Room at the Astor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Taking every precaution to conceal his identity by obliterating the marks on his clothing and other effects, a man, who registered at the Hotel Astor on October 15 as Maurice Stuart, San Francisco, committed suicide in his room on the fourth floor of that hotel some time Sunday night or early Monday morning.

When the man failed to appear yesterday, Assistant Manager Palmer of the Astor entered the room with a pass key and found the corpse on a chair at a writing desk, a bathrobe about his shoulders, dressed only in his underclothes and wearing his shoes. He had been shot through the heart on the floor at his feet was a revolver.

It was plain to Coroner Feinberg that the man had committed suicide, probably for want of funds. He had paid his hotel bill Saturday night, according to the coroner, and the only money found on his person was $2.50.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—No such person as Maurice Stuart, who is reported to have committed suicide at the Hotel Astor, is known at any of the hotels here, nor is his name in the city directory.

MUSICIAN BEATEN IN SALOON FIGHT

Man Who Used Club Said He Was Forced Into Trouble in Self-Defense.

In a saloon brawl at Eighth and Franklin about 9 o'clock last night, J. J. Atkins, a musician for the Broadway theater, was beaten over the head with a policeman's club in the hands of Louis Parquet, proprietor of the saloon. Atkins was taken to the receiving hospital suffering from a contusion of the scalp and a deep wound, and Parquet is being detained at the city prison pending an investigation.

Parquet was arrested by Patrolman Moore and Inspector Richard McSorley last night. The saloon man stated to the police that Atkins had demanded drinks without offering to pay, and that when these were refused he started a fight. Parquet says he resorted to the policeman's club as a means of self-defense.

Catarrh and Blood Disease—Doctors Failed to Cure.
Miss Mabel P. Dawkins, 1214 Lafayette St., Fort Wayne, Ind., writes: "For three years I was troubled with catarrh and blood disease. I tried several doctors and a dozen different remedies, but none of them did me any good. A friend told me of Hood's Sarsaparil. I took two bottles of this medicine and was as well and strong as ever. I feel like a different person and recommend Hood's to any one suffering from catarrh." FIND OF DYNAMITE WILL BE PROBED
Twenty-Two Sticks of High Explosive Are Discovered Near Railroad Track.
SAN LUIS OBISPO, Nov. 7.—Sheriff Younglove has gone to Nipomo to make an investigation concerning the finding of 22 sticks of dynamite two miles below Nipomo within 12 feet of the Pacific Coast railway tracks and a quarter of a mile from the large ranch home of George Meys.

The dynamite was found by Manuel Olivera, a rancher living near by. The dynamite sticks were wrapped in copies of the Los Angeles papers and the combined package wrapped in a thick canvas blanket. The dynamite bears the date of July 12, 1911, and was manufactured at Glant, Cal. Sheriff Younglove reports that from his investigation it would appear that the parties who left the explosive had wanted to rid themselves of it. The dynamite is believed to have been deposited on the edge of the swamp by the same persons who left dynamite at the El Capitán bridge on the Southern Pacific coast line, as the dates on the dynamite are the same.

ACCUSED OAKLANDER ORDERED IN CUSTODY
REDDING, Nov. 7.—Judge Barber, before whom Daniel Fleming of Oakland is being tried for the murder of George Talbot of Tacoma, has ordered the prisoner committed to the custody of the sheriff. Fleming has been at liberty under $25,000 bonds, although the trial has been in progress a week. He explained that he was following the custom of the courts of the state by which a prisoner, he said, could be ordered into custody at any time. Attorney Hall for the defense vigorously protested and Judge Barber ordered the jury to retain the presumption of Fleming's innocence. The defense noted an exception.

TAFT'S VISIT IS GOOD ADVERTISING
Exposition Publicity Carried All Over World by President's Stay.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—The visit of President Taft to San Francisco on the occasion of the first turning of earth for the Panama-Pacific Exposition has caused the fair to be advertised in the remotest corners of the universe with the result that inquiries are pouring in from all directions asking for information and suggesting new features for the enterprise. The project has thus received an immense amount of publicity, the real value of which is only now beginning to dawn upon the directors and those most vitally interested.

Every opportunity to boost the fair is being grasped by the officials and the exhibition tomorrow to the Arizona state fair is going to be participated in by some of the most representative citizens of the community. All along the line the chambers of commerce of the different cities and towns will send representatives to greet the delegation and there is every reason to believe that the excursion will be an enjoyable and profitable one.

ARREST TWO MEN HELD PRISONER BY MONKEYS TWO DAYS
Middy Tells of Hair-Raising Experience in Jungles of Africa.
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Held in captivity by an army of giant baboons for two days until he had given up hope, of seeing his home or ship again, was the amazing experience of George W. Griggs, the youngest midshipman aboard the Bucknell liner Kasonga, in port today from Calcutta and Bombay.

Griggs owes his escape to Chief Officer Wallace Wooster, who at the head of a platoon of native police and sixty Malay sailors, attacked the baboons in the jungle and drove them from their prisoner, who was lying exhausted and almost dead from fright at the foot of a giant cottonwood. "I shudder at the thought of it," said the midshipman today. "Midshipman Horne and I started to walk through the jungle. Suddenly we heard the combined chattering of a million monkeys, and then some beast put its arms around my neck. I shrieked and Horne ran away. "A dozen or more baboons pressed about me and dragged me through the jungle. They did not hurt me, and after a five-mile march they halted in a banana grove and held a council of war. "I was cold with terror. I must have fainted, for it was daylight when I saw them again. They squatted about me and offered me bananas and pineapples. They seemed to have a kind of camping ground and had posted sentries some yards away from where I was lying. "How the days and the following night passed I do not know. It seemed a year before the chief and the native police found me."

INMATE OF POORHOUSE FALLS HEIR TO $1700
MARTINEZ, Nov. 7.—In inmate of the Contra Costa county hospital, in the person of Thomas Dirgin, has fallen heir to $1700. Dirgin has been in the hospital for a number of years. Immediately on receiving the money, which was paid to him by Father Francis Welch of St. Catherine's Catholic church, the aged man left the institution and went to Vallejo, where he will enter an institution for the aged. The money was left Dirgin through the death of a near relative in Ireland. The will of the dead man was contested for several months.

FISHMAN FIRES ON STATE DEPUTIES
Latter Apply for Warrant for Arrest of Alleged Mischreant.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—While endeavoring to make an inspection of fish at Fisherman's wharf this morning, M. N. Clark and J. L. Bundoock, two deputies, were fired upon by the driver of a wagon and later applied for warrants for his arrest on charges of assault with a deadly weapon, assault to murder and resisting an officer.

Joe Bussalacchi, an employee of the International Fish company, is the man for whose arrest the warrants are being asked, the deputy fish commissioners having been informed that he was the employee who was on the wagon which they had desired to inspect. According to the story told by Deputy Clark, he and Bundoock were walking along the wharf when the wagon, which they observed a possible violation of the law regulating undersized fish, and they called upon the driver to halt. Displaying their stars, they advanced and were ready to make their inspection, when, warning them to keep off the wagon, the driver fired two shots in quick succession. The bullets whizzed by uncomfortably close to Bundoock's head, but fortunately both men escaped injury. After firing the shot the fish man ran off and the officers contented themselves with the inspection of his wagon. Owing to the election today, the warrants may not be signed until tomorrow, but they have already been made out by the bonds and warrant clerk.

ASHLAND AVENUE IS REJECTED
Richmond Trustees Refuse to Accept Street on Account of Poor Work.

RICHMOND, Nov. 7.—The city council last night rejected the proposed new street of Ashland avenue, which was given 60 day extensions to complete street work. Dr. C. L. Blake, health officer, made a report about the League of Municipalities which convened at Santa Barbara last week. The next convention will be held in Berkeley and during the session there will be a "Richmond Day." The question of how much license vegetable peddlers should pay was disposed of last night when it was decided to tax them $15 a quarter. Ashland avenue proposition was tabled last night and it was decided to repair the old roads, and cutting the price of the new road to $1000 per mile. The council ordered the improvement of Standard Oil property. Bids will be received Monday, November 20.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—William E. Morrison, a well-to-do business man, at present in Portland, will be arrested on a charge of perjury by Detective George Richards, who left here for the Oregon city this morning armed with a warrant. The accusation against Morrison is made by his wife, Mrs. Kate Morrison, who alleges that in a divorce action, recently instituted, Richard swore that he had lived in this State a year. She alleges that this statement was not the fact and for that reason procured the warrant. Mrs. Morrison resides at the Argonaut Hotel.

We Get a Slap
The big coffee trust, made up of Brazilian growers and American importers, has been trying various tactics to boost the price of coffee and get more money from the people.
Always the man who is trying to dig extra money out of the public pocket, on a combination, hates the man who blocks the game.
Now comes a plaintive bleat from the "exasperated" ones.
The Journal of Commerce lately said: "A stirring circular has just been issued to the coffee trade." The article further says:
"The coffee world is discussing what is to be the future of coffee as a result of the campaign of miseducation carried on by the cereal coffee people. We have before us a letter from one of the largest roasters in the South asking what can be done to counteract the work of the enemies of coffee.
"The matter should have been taken up by the Brazilian Government when they were completing their beautiful valorization scheme."
Then the article proceeds to denounce Postum and works into a fine frenzy, because we have published facts regarding the effect of coffee on some people.
The harrowing tale goes on.
"Where a few years ago everybody drank coffee, several cups a day, now we find in every walk of life people who imagine they cannot drink it. (The underscoring is ours.) Burly blacksmiths, carpenters, laborers and athletes have discontinued or cut down their use of coffee; as there is not a person who reads this and will not be able to find the same conditions existing among his own circle of acquaintances, is it not well for the Brazilians to sit up and take notice?"
Isn't it curious these "burly" strong men should pick out coffee to "imagine" about? Why not "imagine" that regular doses of whiskey are harmful, or daily slugs of morphine?
If "imagination" makes the caffeine in coffee clog the liver, de-

POSTUM
Brazilian Coffee Grower
The money in America, rather than send the millions to Brazil and pay for an article that chemists class among the drugs and not among the foods.
"Will the reader please remember, we never announce that coffee 'hurts all people.'"
Some persons seem to have excess vitality enough to use coffee, tobacco and whiskey for years and apparently be none the worse, but the number is small, and when a sensible man or woman finds an article acts harmfully they exercise some degree of intelligence by dropping it.
We quote again from the article: "These figures are paralyzing but correct, being taken from Leech's statistics, recognized as the most reliable."
This is one of the highest compliments ever paid to the level-headed, common sense of Americans who cut off about two hundred million pounds of coffee when they found by actual experiment (in the majority of cases) that the subtle drug caffeine, in coffee, worked discomfort and varying forms of disease.
Some people haven't the character to stop a habit when they know it is killing them, but it is easy to shift from coffee to Postum for, when made according to directions, it comes to table a cup of beverage, seal brown color, which turns to rich golden brown when cream is added, and the taste is very like the milder grades of Old Gov't Java.
Postum is a veritable food drink and highly nourishing, containing all the parts of wheat carefully prepared to which is added about 10 per cent of New Orleans molasses, and that is absolutely all that Postum is made of.
Thousands of visitors to the pure food factories see the ingredients and how prepared. Every nook and corner is open for every visitor to carefully inspect. Crowds come daily and seem to enjoy it.

'DICK-DICK' MAN GIVES UP CLAIM COMPENSATION ACT SCORED BY UNIONS

Ryan Takes Fright at Stand of Secretary of Interior. Garretson Objects to Some Features of New National Law.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. — Richard S. Ryan, alleged author of the famous "Dick to Dick letter," which started the Controller's investigation during the extra session of Congress last summer, yesterday relinquished all claim to the fifty-six-acre tract on Controller Bay, Alaska, known as the Canyon Creek line terminal tract. Ryan is president of the Controller Railway and Navigation Company. The claim which he relinquished lies between the claims of J. J. Ryan and A. L. Scheur, which it is conceded were taken in the interest of the railway and navigation company. The law requires that between all claims adjoining the water front eighty rods shall be reserved from entry. Ryan's claim occupied practically all of the eighty rods between the soldiers' additional homestead claims of J. J. Ryan and Scheur. He contended that the law did not apply in his case because his application was only for right of way over the tract, not for absolute possession, and that the expression in the law "reserved from entry" need not prevent the Government from granting the use of the land for railway and navigation terminal purposes. Secretary Fisher intimated very strongly in a recent address that the Government would not take Ryan's interpretation of the law. The opinion prevailed here that Ryan saw the hopelessness of holding out after he learned the views entertained by the Secretary.

EUREKA, Nov. 7.—William Gillis, son of one of the oldest settlers in Humboldt county, was swept from Pilot rock, half a mile off Trinidad head, and drowned, his companion, Axel Linger, having a narrow escape from death. The men left Trinidad this morning in a small boat, intending to spend the day on Pilot rock gathering mussels. This afternoon, as they were preparing to leave the rock, a huge wave swept Linger into the sea and capsized the boat in which Linger was standing. Linger managed to reach the boat and make his way to Trinidad bay.

Linger, of Healdsburg, was held up, robbed of $350 in currency and $25 in checks, and left tied hand and foot on the floor. As the robbers were leaving, they fired a shot at Angelo Barocher who was on a bicycle and who failed to get out of the way quick enough to suit them. Lazaris and Sheriff Jim Smith of Santa Rosa, arrived here yesterday and identified Murphy.

Patronize Home Industry.

Distance lends enchantment to the shopper as it does to the poet and the adventurer. The lure of a larger neighboring city blinds many people to the advantages they have at home. They instinctively feel that they get better bargains and cut a more important figure by going abroad to buy. It is a notion not easily dispelled that goods bought in a larger city are cheaper and better than the goods bought in the home town.

Such is not the case, as every investigator knows. Whenever a concrete example is presented to support the contention that the bargain-hunter is better served abroad than at home, it is almost invariably a special instance due to some special circumstance. The rule is that the home merchant deals with more method and knowledge than the merchant at a distance whose trade is more general and widely distributed. He realizes that he must supply the demand of his customers with close attention to their wants, and that he must, in making up his price-list, compete with the imaginary cheapness and excellence of the wares sold elsewhere. He has to combat an ancient illusion, an indefinable longing.

Moreover, the home merchant has an incentive to deal fairly with his patrons that the merchant at a distance does not feel. If he charges a high price or purveys inferior goods, his customers will come back and reproach him for his unfair dealing; they will tell their neighbors about it, and his business will be injured in the very circle he must rely upon for his trade and profit. Hence he marks goods down to the lowest notch and gives best values he can for the money. He does not deceive his patrons—he cannot afford to. His customers are his neighbors and townsmen, and self-interest as well as personal acquaintance advises him to truthfully represent his goods and be reasonable in his prices.

Let us take Oakland for an example. The merchant in this city can buy as cheaply as the merchant in any city can. He knows his trade; he is under no compulsion to treat it fairly, and the real and unreal competition he is required to face compels him to sell on as small a margin of profit as he possibly can. But he has some decided advantages in some things. He buys as cheaply as any other merchant, and he pays lower rent than his San Francisco competitor; his incidental expenses are smaller, and the cost of delivery is less. Oakland merchants are teaching their customers in the school of experience that no better bargains can be had elsewhere, and that for price and quality the Oakland stores cannot be beaten anywhere. Here the merchant knows a large proportion of his customers, by sight if not personally, and he strives to retain their confidence and good will, hence the patron fares better at his hands than he would at the hands of a stranger.

What do these lead to? They simply enforce the wisdom of buying at home, where the shopper receives better attention and, as a rule, better values for the money expended. These reasons affect every shopper individually, but there are other potent arguments why home enterprise and home industry should be patronized. The home merchant pays rent and taxes in this city, swells the trade of the smaller tradesmen and helps support the communal fabric in many ways. His employees likewise pay rent and taxes and patronize the markets, restaurants, theaters, etc., and in a variety of ways contribute to local prosperity. Every dollar the people of Oakland spend abroad is taken from the general fund that supports the industrial, business and property interests of this city.

It is reported from Sacramento that Gov. Johnson has refused to include in his extra session call the annexation scheme a group of San Francisco busybodies had framed up for him. In refusing to be drawn into this scheme of county dismemberment the Governor has displayed not only political wisdom, but a keen sense of justice and propriety. The extra session will be called to legislate on matters requiring immediate attention. There is nothing saving of urgency about municipal consolidation. What the San Francisco schemers really desired was that the Governor should throw the weight of his powerful influence in behalf of a project that is neither expedient, urgent nor just, which is repugnant to fair play and public policy.

Senator Sanford on Alden Anderson.

The Ukiah Dispatch-Democrat, which is edited by State Senator J. B. Sanford, makes this editorial comment on the Bank of Shasta affair:

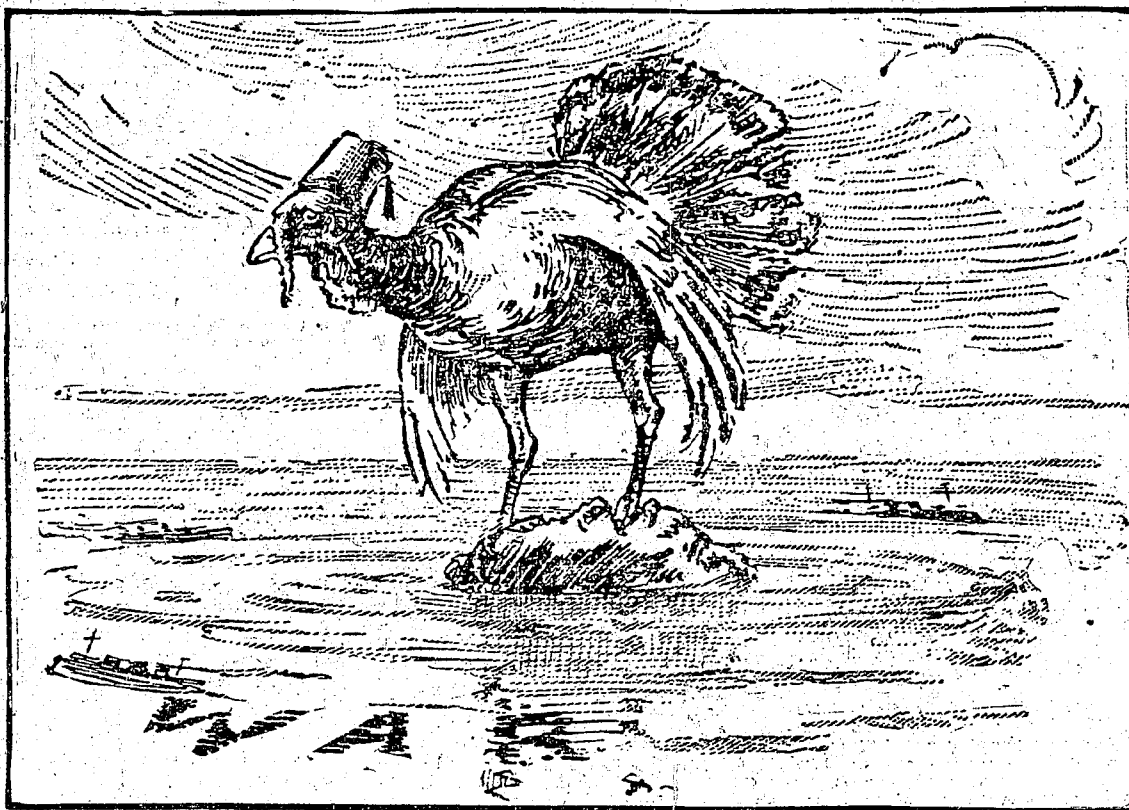

"Alden Anderson, former superintendent of banks, has made good and has kept his promise to place the Bank of Shasta on a firm basis and thus prevent the stockholders from loss. He has now adjusted matters to the satisfaction of all concerned except W. R. Williams, the present superintendent of banks. Williams said that Anderson would not do it and Anderson said that he could. Anderson made good and did it and Williams has acted like a dog in the manger ever since. Instead of assisting those who wished to help conditions he seemed more inclined to block things. It simply shows that Williams is an incompetent and cannot cope with Anderson, who is a big, brainy, honest man. The bank would never have been closed had Anderson remained as superintendent of banks. But Williams' whole idea seemed to be to cast reflections on Anderson, instead of trying to relieve the situation. Williams should admit his incompetency and resign his position and give way to a man who is big enough for the job."

Possibly we are mistaken, but our impression is that Senator Sanford voted for the bill legislating Anderson out of office. If we are mistaken, we are prepared to offer an ample apology. Anyway, Senator Sanford states the truth candidly and forcefully. He is a Democrat of the most "progressive" type, but he is sincere and upright. His blunders are those of an honest, impulsive man who is prone to seek results he deems desirable without giving due thought to the effect of the methods he invokes. Nevertheless, he intends to be fair and square, and hence inspires respect when he cannot claim agreement. His verdict on the Bank of Shasta affair is in keeping with his robust sense of right.

The statement that Joseph Pulitzer originated the sensational newspaper is not correct. That honor belongs to James Gordon Bennett, the elder. In its earlier years, the New York Herald was even more wildly sensational, judged by the journalistic standards of that day, than the World ever was. The Herald became conservative with years and success, and Pulitzer broke into prominence with a new system of sensationalism—a sensationalism that sought other results than the mere gain of subscribers and advertisements.

This year the cotton crop of the United States is about eighteen per cent larger than the crop of last year, but the price has declined thirty-seven per cent. That is, the decline in price is more than double the increase in production. Hence the big crop this year will not bring as much money as the small crop of last year. The drop in the price of cotton seed is even greater than the fall in the price for lint. Here is conclusive evidence that the price has been artificially depressed, to the detriment of the producer. All the spinners are bears, and they have utilized the increase in production to push prices below the legitimate figure.

The Steel Trust Prosecution.

A Wall street financial writer says, "investors are well aware that all the attacks leveled at the great industrial corporations are prompted by politics—it is political ends that are sought, not the enforcement of the anti-trust law."

That statement partakes of the dual character of a reassurance and an accusation. Virtually it tells the operators that there is nothing to fear from the prosecutions instituted under the Sherman Act, and that it is perfectly safe to buy shares in the corporations now being prosecuted or threatened with prosecution by the Attorney-General. It is also an intimation that the prosecutions are a bluff instituted for political effect. This intimation is echoed by the political enemies of the Taft administration and by persons and interests that realize how deadly in earnest the President is, and how effective the Sherman law will be if properly enforced.

The Wall street writer's assertion, thrown out as soft solder for the lambs and as a slur at the President and the Attorney-General, and the statements of E. H. Gary, president of the Steel Trust, should be taken together. Judge Gary says the United States Steel Corporation is not a trust and has not violated the Sherman law. Here again the President and the Attorney-General are indirectly charged with instituting unjust and groundless prosecutions against an innocent and law-abiding industrial enterprise. What for? The obvious answer is that political motives prompted this unjust and wicked proceeding.

Does any sane, well-informed man believe the Steel Trust is an injured innocent, or that the President, who is being charged by William J. Bryan and R. M. La Follette with stuffing the Supreme Court in the interest of the trusts, is guilty of wantonly prosecuting innocent corporations to serve his political advantage? Is not the trepidation of the trust magnates an admission that they know the President is in earnest—that they realize how effective the anti-trust law can be made, and the certainty they feel that the Supreme Court will enforce the law according to its letter and spirit? An innocent person has no reason to fear the law when it is impartially enforced. Still less has he reason to fear unjust and unfavorable action from a court composed of his friends. The trust magnates would not be complaining so loudly if they were innocent and thought the President was only bluffing. They would not be in a panic if a majority of the Supreme Bench were their partisans.

But if the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company was not a violation of the Sherman law, why did Judge Gary and his associates take the precaution to get President Roosevelt's written assent to it? Why did they ask his consent to do something that was entirely regular and lawful, representing to him that the absorption was necessary to prevent a panic? That they deceived Mr. Roosevelt is quite evident, and that Mr. Roosevelt only gave his consent because he thought he was averting a financial disaster is equally plain. An analysis of the circumstances indicates all too clearly that the Steel Trust magnates felt themselves to be in peril of the law and gained President Roosevelt's consent in writing to fortify themselves against future prosecution. Proof that this was their motive is furnished by the fact that they are now saying that President Roosevelt looked into the deal and pronounced it lawful.

Free lunch is now the object of reform in San Francisco. The saloon-keepers want to cut it out and are advocating the adoption of an ordinance making it unlawful to set out a free lunch in a saloon. This will be sad news for Judge Lawlor. Before he was hoisted on the bench by the "push" and "pull" of politics, he was a great patron of free lunches. He bought very few drinks, but he gave extended and vigorous attention to the free lunch stands. It was said that he never had a board bill to pay. If a political convulsion were to shake him off the bench, he would sorely miss the comforts and economies of the free lunch which in days gone by made life cheerful for him.

Even if China does become a republic Spofford alley will not be its capital. Some of the patriotic highbinders of that delightful locality appear to think that in future the destinies of the Chinese nation will be directed from Spofford alley, but fantan, samschu and the opium pipe will continue to absorb the activities of Spofford alley's patriots.

THE HERPICIDE GIRL

Says Everyone Can Have Beautiful Hair.

I am really ashamed of some of my girl friends when I look at their hair. There is no sense in having such looking heads. It simply shows that while they may be scrupulously neat in every other way, they are careless about their hair.

Thin, scraggy, wispy hair generally indicates dandruff and dandruff is caused by a germ. Newbro's Herpicide will kill that germ and keep the scalp as clean and healthy as can be. This permits the hair to grow naturally and luxuriantly. That terrible itching which goes with dandruff stops with almost the first application.

Substitutes or remedies said to be "just as good" are sometimes offered, but it is better to buy the genuine original germ killer, Newbro's Herpicide. There is no guesswork about that preparation. A trial isn't necessary, just buy a bottle and use it. The results are sure to be better than you expect.

For sale at drug stores. One dollar size bottles are guaranteed. Applications obtained at the better barber shops. Send 10c in postage for sample and book to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich.

HOW TYPHOONS MOVE

Contrary to the general impression a typhoon, that is what is known to the scientist as a "well-formed" one, does not consist of merely a terrific gale of wind with a calm spot in the immediate center.

On the contrary, next to the center, which may have a diameter anywhere from two miles to 50 where the calm belt reigns, there is a sort of ring generally less than a mile in diameter in which light winds prevail. After this is passed comes the real main body of the destroyer, which may have a total diameter of anywhere from 200 to 1000 miles or even more.

The force of the typhoon depends on the depth of the depression of the currents of air, or to put it in scientific terms, the "barometer gradient." A roughly formed typhoon may be a great deal smaller and shorter in duration than one of regular formation, according to some very interesting data secured from Father Aigue, director of the Manila observatory. All typhoons come from the east, so that while the China coast ports are benefited by the knowledge derived from the Philippine station as being forewarned the reverse cannot occur.

Typhoons are located by two methods, the barometer and the clouds. Thus, for example, when Guam reports the fall of the barometer to a certain point and the other stations between Manila and Guam send in their reports it is obviously merely a matter of a certain amount of calculation to determine where the lowest pressure is and hence the location of the typhoon.

Reports on the clouds from the various stations together with the direction of the wind give the direction taken by the typhoon. All this is materially aided by an instrument known as the barocyclonometer, which indicates by massive needles like those of a compass the direction of the typhoon.

In this manner with the help of Guam a typhoon may be located from two to four days before reaching Manila or anywhere else in the islands, but if the typhoon has developed between Guam and the islands the period will necessarily be shortened to a day or two. Following the same rule Hongkong, for example, may be apprised as much as five days ahead of time of the advent of the storm. —Manila Times.

20 YEARS AGO IN OAKLAND

The mountain lion appeared once more in the Redwood canyon and the brother of Ambrose Bierce had a narrow escape from falling into his clutches. Mr. Bierce and several young men are camping in Redwood canyon. One evening Bierce went out alone to hunt a coon, which he heard near the camp, talking with him a shotgun loaded with small shot. He did not see the coon and was returning home when he heard an animal behind him. Turning quickly around he came face to face with the lion, not ten feet away. The animal was just in a position to spring when Bierce coolly leveled his shotgun at it and fired. The shot, although too small to kill, struck the animal in the side and made it scream with pain.

On another occasion, Wick Havens of Vernon Heights, who was visiting the camp, saw what he thought was a horse on the top of a hill. He soon found that the animal was the lion, who was enjoying a sun bath. He called one of the campers, who fired at it and it evidently took effect, as the animal has not been seen since.

A DRAW

"I found 50 cents this morning," confessed Jimmy.

"Found a whole half dollar!" cried his mother. "How fine! What did you do with it?"

"Pete Jones was along, so I gave him half."

"You dear, generous boy! Did you do that of your own accord?"

"Yessum—well, we decided that would be right."

"Jimmy! He didn't whip you and make you give up half?"

"No, mamma. If he'd licked me, he'd had it all. The scrap was a draw." —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MAKER OF ARTISTS DRIVEN FROM CITY

Nathan Arlock's Price for Applause Breaks Up Philadelphia Clique.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—From $20 to $1000, according to Nathan Arlock, the American tenor, is the scale of prices demanded by Nathan Arlock, King of the Philadelphia after demanding $1000 from Magie Teyte, the new soprano, whose premier in "Il Trovatore" was awaited with great interest on Saturday.

For $1000, Arlock told Mme. Teyte, he would not fall to make her a national favorite. If she thought that investment too great he would do the best his resources could afford a $500.

It was Van Hoose who planned the treat that caught Arlock, who demanded money from him as well as from Mme. Teyte.

Van Hoose says that in approaching him Arlock showed him a book containing the names of nearly every grand opera singer of note in America, with the amount paid to him for applause by each one. In some instances the sums ran into thousands of dollars.

"Arlock came to me at a rehearsal," he said. "He told me he was ready to make success or failure for me when the performance opened on Saturday. He said it would be a very simple matter for him to have a large number of clappers in the opera house who would applaud or hiss at his signal."

"I told him I had always relied on merit for applause, but he said the day for that was past."

"Why," he laughed, "I have made half the big operatic stars. I can spoil the success of new ones equally as well. I won't cost much, what do you say?"

"I asked him how much it would cost for plaudits, and he told me he had various scales. His applause for entrance on the first act would cost $20, the second $20 more, and so on until the third act, up to the $1000, which he assured me was cheap."

CALIFORNIA KEMP MAY BE FULL OF POTASH

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 7.—Stimulated by the potash controversy with Germany, the experts of the Department of Agriculture are well on their way to solving the potash problem in the United States and at the same time discovered a great new industry for the Pacific Coast.

The giant sea kelp of the California shores, which has been the plaything of children and the torment of bathers, has been found to contain forty per cent of potash. Secretary of Agriculture Wilson recently intimated that the investigators of his department had let the heat of the search for potash in rocks and were seeking for the valuable substance in plants, and it was learned today that the investigation of the California sea kelp has had surprising results.

AGGREGATE BANK RETURNS LOWER

Leading Centers to Number of 112 Show Balance of $13,421,537,507.

Aggregate bank exchanges during the month of October in the United States, according to the statement compiled by R. G. Dun & Co., which includes returns from 112 leading centers, amounts to $13,421,537,507, a decrease of 2.1 per cent as compared with the same month last year and of 15.0 per cent compared with the corresponding month in 1920.

The smaller total this year is principally due to the falling off at New York City, largely a reflection of reduced operations in the stock market, as the majority of cities outside that center report a reasonable volume of bank clearings.

The most satisfactory comparisons are made by cities in the Central States and at the South, especially in the South Atlantic States. In New England the total is somewhat below that of either preceding years, owing to small returns at Boston, Providence and one of two other cities, but good gains are still made by Springfield, Worcester and Hartford, and toward the end of the month there was evidence of considerable improvements at the other cities.

FAVORABLE COMPARISONS.

A number of leading cities in the Middle Atlantic States continue to make favorable comparisons with preceding years, among them Buffalo, Rochester, Binghamton, Reading, Wilkes-Barre and Erie, but the total is less than last year because of losses at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and some other points. The continuance of prosperous conditions throughout the South Atlantic States is reflected in a larger volume of bank clearings than in either year at present, by every city included in the statement, among which are Richmond, Norfolk, Atlanta, Augusta, Macon and Jacksonville.

The Central South makes a more satisfactory exhibit than in either preceding year, for while a few cities report small losses there are very good gains at such important centers as St. Louis, Louisville, Memphis, Nashville, Galveston, Houston and Little Rock. Returns from the cities in the Central States display some improvement as compared with recent preceding months and the total is larger than last year of 1920. Gains are general and are quite pronounced at Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Detroit, Milwaukee, Evansville, Akron, Canton and numerous other important points.

IRREGULAR RETURNS.

There is still considerable irregularity in the returns from the cities in the Western States, more or less decrease being reported at a number of cities, but indications of improving conditions are reflected in gains at St. Paul, St. Joseph, Des Moines, Topeka and other centers.

On the Pacific slope satisfactory gains continue to be made at numerous leading cities, among them San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland, and a small gain at Seattle. While losses still appear at several points, the total is larger than in either preceding year.

Total returns from the Pacific States show considerable gain over both preceding years because of the expansion at San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland and other points, though several cities still report loss. The figures in detail follow:

Women Cooks Installed on Vessels Sailing Up and Down Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Women cooks have been installed on several Pacific Coast vessels and the experiment is reported to have proved successful. President Harry W. Brosby of the Washington Tug and Barge Company is proud in his praise of women steamship cooks.

"They're sober and make better bread. Then there is not the probability of a mutiny. The galleys are kept much cleaner and the sailors and passengers alike appear to be better satisfied with the food."

Members of the petticoat sea cook force of this coast are being paid $5 per month more than the men cooks.

(Recipe by Mrs. Mary J. Lincoln)
Mix four cups sifted pastry flour, one level teaspoon soda, two level teaspoons mixed spices (except cloves), one-fourth level teaspoon salt and two cups seeded and quartered raisins. Add also one-half cup nuts chopped fine, if you like. Blend one-half cup Cointreau with one cup brown sugar and one cup white sugar, add one cup molasses, one cup milk and then the flour mixture. Beat well and bake in two pans.

You will find this fruit cake as light, moist, flavorful as any you ever made with butter. You save something, too, by using Cointreau—the perfect shortening.

10,000,000-POUND BRIDGE BUILDING

Southern Pacific Swing Span Is Heaviest in the World.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 7.—On the outskirts of Sacramento the Southern Pacific Company is grading a steel bridge across the Sacramento river that contains the heaviest swing span of any bridge in the world. This span is 40 feet in length and its weight is 6,800,000 pounds. The entire bridge, however, will weigh more than 10,000,000 pounds when it has all been placed in position upon the heavy concrete piers.

There are only two steel bridges in the world that have swing spans that exceed the new Sacramento river bridge in length. One is across the Willamette river and is a part of the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railway system. Its weight, however, is only 5,400,000 pounds, 800,000 pounds less than that of the Sacramento bridge.

The Omaha Terminal Company operates a large steel bridge across the Missouri river that has a swing span 520 feet in length, but the steel is of much lighter construction, the weight being only $5,000,000 pounds. The new Sacramento river bridge of the Southern Pacific is a part of the double tracking of the Harriman lines. It will contain not only two tracks for the trains but a concrete wagon and automobile road. The American river bridge company, which is fabricating this steel work for the structure, have records of numerous heavy swing spans but none that can equal that of the new Southern Pacific bridge.

The plans for this structure were sunk by the pneumatic process under the direction of the Southern Pacific engineers, and the construction of the abutments, as well as the erection of the steel superstructure, is being done by the company's engineering force.

ARMY OFFICERS PEEVED AT QUARTERS IN CANAL ZONE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—United States plans to make out for the permanent garrisoning of the Panama canal zone, no provision will be made for quarters for army officers and their families, according to War Department officials. Complaints reported to have come from members of the Tenth Infantry recently dispatched to the zone, are believed here to be without foundation as the officers were told before they started that there were no permanent arrangements, and were well aware of the conditions confronting them.

DR. ELIOT STARTS ON A WORLD TOUR

President Emeritus of Harvard Represents Carnegie Peace Fund.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The most prominent name on the passenger list of the outgoing liner Kron Prinz Wilhelm this morning was that of Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president-emeritus of Harvard. Dr. Eliot is starting on a tour around the world. Dr. Eliot goes as a representative of the Carnegie endowment for international peace in the interests of the work of the endowment. He will explain the organization and aims of the endowment to the most popular and study the public opinion of the countries visited, especially as relates to matters of international concern. Dr. Eliot expects to be back in Boston July 15, 1922.

After deliberating for some months upon the class motto, the students of the graduating class of the Grant school have selected the sentiment, "Make Good," which has been placed upon the blackboard as an incentive for the boys and girls of the school.

About 50 quotations were submitted by the pupils who searched through the pages of the dictionary for an appropriate saying. Among the most popular were, "Sink or Swim," "Work and Win."

The sentiment of force and tenacity was also popular. The motto, "Make Good," was chosen by the class for the selection of those two words. "Make Good" is almost empty. The boys and girls who were divided as to the inspiration which would be derived from the phrase, it received the largest vote and was adopted.

BIBLES WORK MUCH GOOD.

VISALIA, Nov. 7.—Distribution of Bibles in the rooms and lobbies of hotels here has been followed by a wave of apparent reform. A member of the Golden Society placed the Bibles in the hotels a few days ago. Now the churches are experiencing a revival of interest, loafers are disappearing from the streets and the public is being enlarged to accommodate growing Sunday-school classes.

$20,000 MAIL POUCH MISSING FROM TRAIN

C., Nov. 7.—That a United States mail pouch routed from Raleigh to New York and containing $20,000 disappeared two weeks ago in a manner similar to the recently reported $20,000 theft of a pouch at Lynchburg, Va., became known here yesterday. Beyond admitting the loss of the package, officials refuse to discuss the matter.

It is declared unofficially that the pouch disappeared after being received by a mail clerk on a northbound train passing here, and that the clerk in whose custody it was placed has been suspended from the service pending an investigation.

'NO VOTE, NO TAX' WOMEN'S SLOGAN

Chicago League to Defy Power of Law to Collect Impost.

CHICAGO, Nov. 7. — "No vote, no tax," is to be the slogan this year of hundreds of women tax payers in Chicago, unless they are allowed to vote.

At a meeting of the "No Vote, No Tax League" held yesterday it was decided to begin work at once to urge 1000 women property owners to refuse to pay their taxes. Members of the league were urged to pay the $1 membership fee into the league in lieu of paying their taxes.

The same argument was made to the women last year, but failed, many fearing possible loss of their property. They were given encouragement today by the action of President Belle Squire of the league, who refused to pay her taxes and has refused to do so for four years. Notwithstanding her refusal to pay her taxes unless she is allowed to vote, no action has been taken against her.

The league is pledged to protect all women who act similarly regarding the repayment of their taxes.

LOS ANGELES HAS EARLY HOUR FIRE

East Wing of City Market Was Destroyed at a Loss of $12,000.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7. — The entire eastern wing of the Los Angeles city market was destroyed by fire early this morning, the estimated loss being $12,000. Eleven stalls, occupied mostly by Chinese, were burned, together with a large amount of produce which was received late yesterday in anticipation of early trade today.

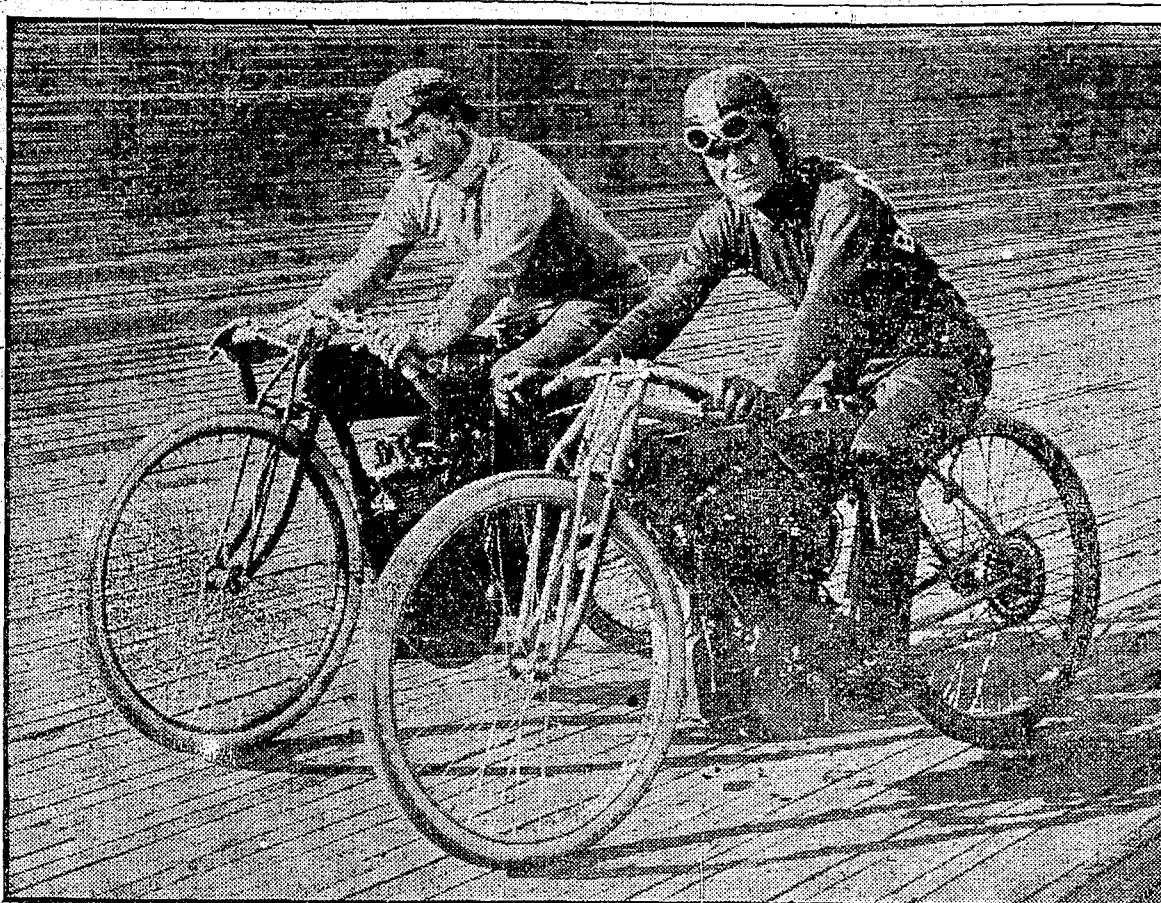

A lighted cigar stump thrown in a pile of rubbish, is thought to have caused the fire.

LOGGER COMMITS SUICIDE.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 7. — Celestin Broudeshen, a logger, who had been drinking heavily, ran amuck with a rifle yesterday in a West Main-street hotel, and, after shooting three times fruitlessly at the clerk, Fred Bauman, and sending a bullet into the leg of Rudolph Schultz, a lodger, turned the weapon toward his own breast and shot himself through the heart, causing instant death. Broudeshen was a Frenchman, 30 years old.

MOTORDROME WILL BE THE SCENE OF SENSATIONAL RACING SPEED-BURNERS OF LAND AND AIR WILL SUPPLY THE SPORT

RAY SEYMOUR (left) and CHARLES BALKE, two of the stars who will ride at the Motordrome on Sunday.

Great Interest Is Being Shown in Sunday's Cycle Contests

(By J. A. HOULIHAN.)

Interest in the initial series of races to be held on the Motordrome is increasing daily and if present indications are a criterion by which to judge, a monster crowd will be on hand Sunday to witness the combination motorcycle and aviation meet.

For the remainder of the week the small army of motor riders who are now on the ground will put in the time tuning the 100 mile an hour speed cycles they are to ride.

Every afternoon a dozen of them are to be found on the Elmhurst saucer track. They furnish excitement as thrilling as it is served in any form and cause one's blood to creep every minute they are in action.

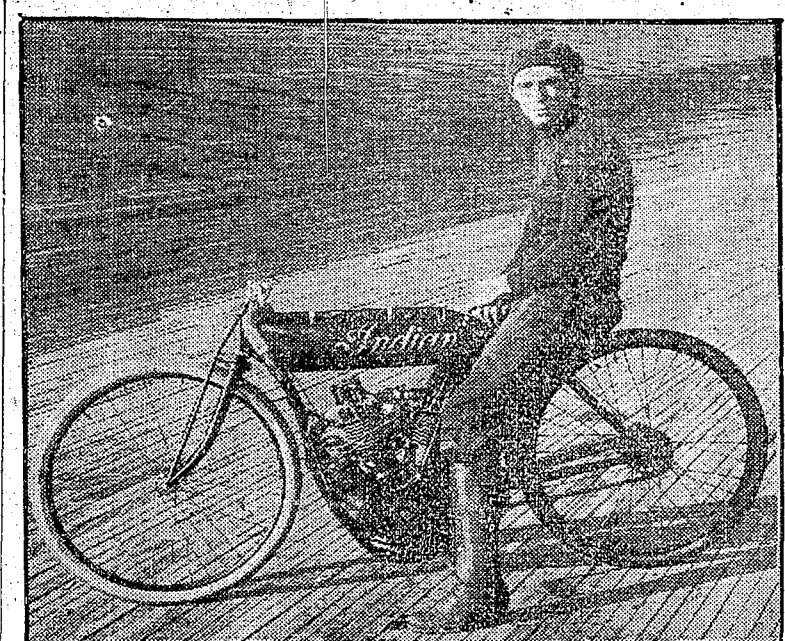

There is little likelihood of a recurrence of the fiasco which marred the meet promoted by the dealers on May 30. If nothing else, Prince promises the best afternoon has been served up to the sport loving public in this vicinity in many a day.

POPULAR IN EAST.

Motorcycle racing throughout the east during the past summer attracted enormous crowds at every meet. So successful was it in Chicago that plans are now under way for the construction of three more tracks in different sections of that city. In Salt Lake City meets were held three nights a week over a period of three months. Denver supported two rival tracks and this sport was furnished practically every night in the week in the latter city.

In every town where successful races have been promoted, motor bike contests have leaped into public favor displacing in many places even the old time popular diversion, baseball.

The first event of Sunday afternoon will be called promptly at 3 p. m. The entire program will be run off within two hours. "Delays will be marred by their absence," is the assertion made by Manager Prince. It is to be hoped that such a condition will prevail in view of similar promises which were made at the three other afternoons of sport on the Motordrome, and were not lived up to.

ALBRIGHT, the star Indian rider, who is here for the Motordrome opening.

WOLTERS WILL RACE.

According to a report from San Jose, received early this morning, Farmer Boy Wolters will leave the hospital in that city today and by Thursday he will be well enough to don his racing togs for practice work. Wolters is now proclaimed as the motorcycle champion, having earned the honor by decisively beating the old time war horse, Jake De Rosier, on the Riverview track.

There is a likelihood that these two will be brought together for a match race in the near future. De Rosier has never appeared in competition around these parts and he has many number of admirers who are anxious to see him ride. Masson, the aviator, will be a strong rival with the motor riders for a good share of the public interest. This daring Frenchman will, he predicts, startle the residents of the bay cities by his spectacular performances in the air. If he is favored with clear and calm weather he plans a number of sensational flights. On each of his ascensions he will carry a passenger.

WOMAN AVIATOR.

Masson's wife who accompanies him from city to city is herself probably the most expert woman aviator in the world. In the last three months she has made a number of wonderful flights in different parts of the country where Masson has exhibited.

An automobile race between the Maxwell, driven by Cooper, and the Buick, driven by Earl de Vore, may be an added feature. Arrangements are now being made to secure these two star men for a ten mile event.

Prince is expected back from Los Angeles tonight, his visit to that city being made to secure additional talent, if possible.

How to Test out Shoe Values

IN Regal Shoe windows you will see two left shoes (or two right shoes) side by side on same pedestal.

One is a Regal $3.50.

The other is a Regal $5.00.

Each is stamped on the sole with the Makers' Price, up to which Wear, Comfort and Satisfaction to Consumer are guaranteed.

There is the full difference of $1.50 in retail value between these two pairs of Regal Shoes.

But, can you tell (without looking at the price on the sole) which is the $3.50 shoe and which is the $5.00 shoe in the window?

And, if you can't tell the difference, (through the finish) how are you to know values in shoes that are not price controlled by the Makers (through their valuation being stamped on the soles at the factory)?

Ninety per cent of all other shoes are today sold on their mere outward appearance.

That "appearance" is largely a matter of lasting and finish, quite independent of Material or Service to Consumer hidden under the finish.

But, Regal Shoes are stamped on the soles of each pair, indelibly, with the retail price which the Makers guarantee will give full value every time.

You run no risk of paying $4.50 to $5.00 for a $3.50 shoe (with a $5.00 finish), if you make sure that this Regal Shoe brand is stamped on the sole with the Regal Shoe price.

That price includes a mere 5% profit for Regal Shoe factories, as per Auditor's Statement seen in Regal Stores and Agencies.

Compare value in all other shoes with that in

BRITISH SUMMON U. S. N. EXPERT

Remarkable Experiments in Boat Collisions Conducted by This Government.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. — An explanation of the summoning by the British Government of Naval Constructor D. W. Taylor, of the United States navy, as an expert witness in the admiralty trial growing out of the collision last September between the warship Hawk and the White Star liner Olympic, is found in the publication by the Hydrographic Office of the results of some remarkable experiments made by this office in the great model tank at the Washington Navy yard, last summer.

Three experiments were made with four models each of 3000 pounds displacement, which were drawn along at varying speeds and in different positions toward each other. It was demonstrated that one vessel approaching another from the rear, both proceeding in the same direction, is strongly repulsed by the forward vessel up to a certain point, representing the overlapping of about one-third of the ship's length. At that critical point, however, there is a sudden and powerful change, the aftermost vessel being strongly drawn toward the leading vessel, necessitating an almost instant change of the helm to avoid a disastrous collision.

VOTE OF MACHINISTS TOO LOW FOR STRIKE

CHICAGO, Nov. 7. — Details of the vote of the shop employees of the Rock Island railroad, which became known today following the return of the committee to Chicago yesterday, showed that cast by the machinists to be below the necessary three-fourths majority required to legalize a strike. The vote of the machinists was 335 for and 173 against a strike.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7. — A homing pigeon race from Ashland, Oregon, to Los Angeles, California, a distance of nearly 1000 miles, has been planned by members of the recently organized Southern California Racing Pigeon Club. A series of races to begin shortly after January 1, 1912, has been planned. The race between Ashland and Los Angeles is considered one of extreme difficulty.

'UNCLE JOE' IS ON HIS WAY TO CANAL

Tells Reporter Some One Told Him California Is Strong

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. — Former Speaker Joseph Cannon arrived here last night from Danville, Illinois. Mr. Cannon, who is showing the weight of his advancing years, was feeling none too well, but said he would leave today for New York, whence he will sail for Panama, as a member of the appropriations committee, on an inspection trip preparatory to voting on canal appropriations during the coming session of Congress.

Speaking of President Taft's trip through the west, the former speaker said: "I met a man from San Francisco the other day, who told me that California was extremely strong for President Taft. I asked him whether it was before or after the President's visit that the State had voted to adopt the initiative, referendum and recall, and women's suffrage."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. — Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh has come out in favor of pensioning superannuated governmental clerks. It is said that in his annual report to Congress this year, he will make this pensioning system a feature. The secretary believes that after congressmen become better acquainted with this subject they will give it their support.

SEA TO CLOSE ON WRECK OF MAINE

Stern of Old Vessel Will Be Towed Out to Deep Water and Buried.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—The stern of the wreck of the Maine will be towed out to sea and buried. The bow will be hauled to pieces, hauled out on barges and dumped into the sea.

General Bixby, chief of the army engineers, in charge of removing the tangled wreck from Havana harbor, has decided upon this course.

The aft section of the wreck is uncovered and is in excellent condition. The bow of the ship, where the explosion occurred, is a tangled wreck of boilers and girders, and will not be completely uncovered for at least three months, probably longer, the time depending on whether or not congress appropriates $250,000 for the work next month.

"In about three weeks we will start to rip the stern section free from the bow," General Bixby said yesterday. "We have enough money out of the last appropriation to sever the wreck into two portions, but we have not enough to remove the coffer dam and tow the stern out to sea."

A great part of the bow is covered with mud, and we will not know just how to handle that portion until we have removed the mud. It is a slow, tedious job. The further we get along in the work the more work we find to be done.

All these new theories about the destruction of the ship are mere guess work. We know as much about the cause of the wreck today as we did 13 years ago. The original explosion was so small in comparison to the explosions that followed from the magazines that the first cause probably left no definite clew.

Since that affair Fraher has not been in his former health and two years ago resigned from the police force.

DAILY LETTER ABOUT Nemo CORSETS

New York, November 7, 1911.

DEAR MADAM:

*We want to tell you some reasons why Nemo Corsets are so much more durable and comfortable than any others. You already know that they ARE, but probably you don't know just why.

In the first place, the very best of materials are none too good for the Nemo; and we have even had to invent new fabrics to get them good enough. Every yard of material is accurately tested for strength, by means of specially devised instruments.

As you know, Nemo Corsets never stretch and lose their shape. That is because the seams are sewed in such a way that there is no "give" to them. This is done by machinery of our own invention which is built in our own machine shops. Now you can understand why other manufacturers can't make corsets that won't stretch—we invented and now own the only machines in existence that can do the work that way.

Again: Every Nemo Corset must pass the eagle-eyes of no less than a dozen skilled inspectors before it can get into its box. *The slightest imperfection shuts it out from all chance of ever reaching your hands.

Nemo Corsets outwear all others because every Nemo represents at least twice as much value, in material and making, as any other corsets sold at the same prices. We can afford to give you double value because we make more high-priced corsets ($3.50 and upward) than all other American manufacturers combined.

*As for comfort, that is simply the result of skillful designing along correct physiological and hygienic lines, whereby the corset is made to fit the figure so that no steel or seam can press upon nerve, bone or artery. It takes years to master this art.

It is simply impossible to imitate Nemo Corsets successfully. Self-Reducing Corset No. 523 (pictured today) is an example of that fact. No fabric except Lastikops Webbing can possibly be used for the Bandlet which makes this the greatest reducing corset ever constructed for women who need perfect abdominal support from underneath.

No. 522 is a similar model, but with a slightly higher bust. These are the corsets which thousands of physicians are heartily recommending and even "prescribing." Please think that over.

SIBERIAN ICE HOLDS ALASKAN

John Johnson, Famous Dog Team Driver, Marooned Far From Home.

NOME, Alaska, Nov. 7.—John Johnson, the famous dog team driver, is marooned on the Siberian coast. He crossed over early in the fall to get Siberian dogs to enter in next year's All-Alaska sweepstakes race. The ice meeting down from the Arctic drove away the boat on which he expected to return.

Johnson's boat arrived here today with news of his plight. He will be unable to get back to Nome this winter.

Johnson is one of the most noted drivers in the North. Driving Colonel Sir James Ramsey's team of Siberian wolves, he won the sweepstakes in 1910 and established the record of 74 hours, 10 minutes and 20 seconds for the 412-mile course. He drove the Ramsey wolves in the race last winter but was stricken with snow blindness and had to drop out of the contest when only twenty-four miles from the goal.

PARLIAMENT OPENING MAY BE DELAYED

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 7.—The illness of Captain Ernest Chambers, usher of the black rod, has temporarily tied up the arrangements for the opening of parliament on November 15.

Captain Chambers is the arbiter of all questions as to admission to the brilliant affair next week, and his sudden illness has disrupted the whole machinery of the first drawing room of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall. Before the usual invitations for the functions can be issued, it may be necessary to appoint a new black rod.

WHITE REDWOOD IS FOUND

REDWOOD CITY, Nov. 7.—John O'Farrell, landscape gardener, superintendent for the city of San Francisco, discovered a white redwood tree on Sunday while hunting in the mountains near San Gregorio, twenty miles from here. O'Farrell cut a limb of the tree, which he believes can be successfully transplanted in the courthouse grounds.

AGED SUFFRAGIST SIGNS THE ROLLS

Mrs. Mary M. Springer Has Been Fighting for Cause Many Years.

Mrs. Mary Mallory Springer of 1120 Filbert, a pioneer advocate of woman's suffrage in Oakland, registered her vote in the office of the county clerk yesterday afternoon. She called at the registration division about 3:30 o'clock and it took only a few minutes to add her name to the great register of the county. She declared her politics as Republican and her age as 80 years.

Taking up her residence in California in 1883 with her husband, the late Thomas A. Springer, who was one of the pioneer newspaper men of the state, Mrs. Springer immediately began to advocate equal rights, while Springer busied himself in establishing newspapers in the early-day mining camps. The couple came to the coast from Galena, Ill., where equal suffrage had already gained considerable headway as a political issue.

Springer and his wife differed on the question of suffrage. He fought the issue in the papers and she did all she could to advance the cause and she declared yesterday that her own experience convinced her that the fear of political friction entering the home as the result of suffrage was merely a bugaboo, as she and her husband have permitted their contrary views to interfere with their marital happiness.

During the recent convention of the International Typographical Union in San Francisco Mrs. Springer was an honored guest at the sessions.

"They knew that I was reading proof in a newspaper office before any of the delegates were born," said Mrs. Springer, and for this reason the printers treated me royally."

FOREIGN DEMAND MADE FOR FLOUR

Northern Millers Receive Orders From Liberia, First Since War.

SEATTLE, Nov. 7.—For the first time since before the Russian-Japanese war Puget sound flour millers are receiving inquiries for flour from Liberia. The first demand for American flour is said to be the result of a crop failure in Liberia.

Late advices from the Far East say that the Liberians are being made to have the Russian government remove the import duty, which has kept American flour out of the Siberian market.

Flour shipments from Puget sound to the Far East during October aggregated 203,251 barrels, or more than double the number of barrels shipped during September. During October Columbia river mills ships 151,839 barrels.

Literary Men and Marriage:

Mrs. Margaret Deland is moved to protest against the assumption that authors necessarily fall as husbands or wives, or that something in the literary temperament militates against domestic harmony and happiness.

A year or two ago a clever writer examined the historical record and proved that as far as appearances go literary men are not meant for wedlock. His illustrations were numerous and seemed convincing. But he had sufficient common sense to attach no undue importance to his "proof" and to refrain from wild generalizing. The only moral he drew was the simple, homely, prosaic one that authors should not write at home, but have an office or library away from home and spend their working hours there; after the manner of business men. What is bad for marriage, he concluded, was too much propensity, to much monotony, too much interference.

Petty annoyances and quarrels over trifling sayings and doings should be avoided or prevented, and the author who is always at home cannot help getting in the way of his wife or finding her in his way. One brilliant woman once said to her husband right after their honeymoon: "I love you very much, but—don't come home for luncheon."

We suggest to literary men to try the preventive cure or cure of not coming home for luncheon regularly and of doing their writing away from the family seat. —Chicago Record-Herald.

FORCE OF HABIT.

"For heaven's sake!" he exclaimed when he had tried on his new suit, "why have you put such enormous pockets in my coat and trousers?"

"Oh," the tailor confessed, "I must give your pocket for that. It was a mistake. You see I have been doing business in a town where the saloons were all closed on Sundays." —Chicago Record-Herald.

WOMEN IN THE NEWS

WOMAN MAKES BLACKMAIL CHARGE

Grave Conspiracy Laid at Door of Prominent San Jose Residents.

SAN JOSE, Nov. 7.—Conspiracy to blackmail is the charge made by Mrs. Martha Oldham against Dr. Charles B. Hare and A. B. Ross in an answer filed in the Superior Court yesterday to a suit brought some time ago to recover on a promissory note for $300. Dr. Hare and Ross, intimate friends and associates, are deacons in the United Presbyterian church and Mrs. Oldham is a daughter of the late Julius Martin of Gilroy, one of the state's earliest and most honored pioneers.

The action set up a note made by Mrs. Oldham and Dr. Hare, January 19 last, calling for the payment of $300 on July 1 to the First National bank.

In the answer Mrs. Oldham declares that she never made the note; that she simply went on it for surety for Dr. Hare, who was the principal maker; that the note was paid by Dr. Hare, but that he later transferred it to Ross, who proceeded against her upon it as if it had never been paid; that she went upon the note as surety when Dr. Hare, in 1909, wanted to borrow a small sum to buy an automobile; that Ross was with Hare when the latter paid the note at the bank, and that the transfer of the paper from Hare to Ross was without consideration and simply to fraudulently blackmail her.

Gaby's to Blame

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—An alleged count, Yves de Villers, was yesterday locked up on the charge of giving an elaborate banquet to the French actress, Mlle. Gaby Deslys, and refusing to pay the bill, amounting to something like $1000.

To Louis Martin, debtor, for birthday dinner to 23 persons, $500.

To Mcintosh, florist, Broadway and Forty-sixth street, $150.

To Rudolph Schwartz, caterer, 641 Lexington avenue, $425.

Louis Martin of the famous French restaurant in Fifth avenue says: "I do not recognize the Count Yves de Villers. Gaby Deslys came here to arrange for the banquet, and I was in no way connected with the affair."

Magistrate McGuire held the "Count" de Villers in $1000 bail. He was still in jail last night, Gaby Deslys having said, "I will not help him. I will not see him unless he pays these flower, dinner and supper bills."

Meanwhile Martin and Florist McIntosh are not waiting, but holding Gaby Deslys responsible, because, as they express themselves, "she is good for it."

Taxi Went On

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—While a waiting taxicab chugged away $2 worth of time, Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of J. P. Morgan, dined yesterday at the Brooklyn navy yard, women's restaurant. Her meal cost 20 cents and consisted of corn beef and cabbage, apple dumpling and coffee.

Miss Morgan founded the restaurant three years ago and occasionally drops in to observe the progress of her enterprise. At her table yesterday sat three or four of the yard mechanics in their soiled overalls, but Miss Morgan didn't seem a bit abashed, and she had a long chat with them as she ate of the home-made cooking.

Girl Drinks Poison

BAKER, Ore., Nov. 7.—In the presence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Miller, died her sweetest daughter, Waggy Myrtle Miller, aged 19, committed suicide at her home yesterday by swallowing part of the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid, dying within a few minutes.

Miss Miller and Waggy were to have been married Sunday, but the wedding was postponed by order of the girl's parents. Brooding over this is supposed to have prompted the suicide.

Knox Jr. to Wed

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The engagement was announced yesterday of Miss Katharine McCook, daughter of General and Mrs. Anson G. McCook to Hugh S. Knox, second son of Secretary of State Knox.

J. H. Reed Knox, the secretary's eldest son, was married in January, 1907, to Miss Elizabeth McCook of Pittsburg, second cousin of Miss Katharine McCook. The marriage, for which no date has been set, will therefore be the second linking of the Knox and McCook families.

How to Prepare Your Own Shampoo

"A bountiful growth of soft, luxuriant hair, can be every woman's legacy—hair whose shimmering, silky strands respond to the finger's gentle touch and go in place as if by magic," writes Mrs. Mae Martin in the New York Daily Record. "No great effort is required, but the right sort of treatment should be given it. Shampooing with hurtful preparations must be avoided—in fact, the only safe shampoo to use is plain cantharox, a teaspoonful of which dissolved in a cup of hot water is enough for a satisfactory shampoo."

"The cantharox mixture creates a wealth of rich, cleansing lather that gently penetrates and loosens all dead tissue, stops irritation and neutralizes excess oil. When the head is rinsed, the scalp and hair are spotlessly clean, and the hair takes on a rich tone and mystic charm. Occasional shampoos with cantharox will induce the hair to grow abundantly and take on an even color that greatly adds to personal charm."

A Beautiful Woman Must Not Weep

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1911, By Lillian Russell.)

YESTERDAY is no more. Tomorrow is not yet. All we have is today. Sorrows are only as deep as we dig them. Don't dig deep enough to bury yourself.

This philosophy is inspired by the lesson I received a few days ago. A beautiful friend of mine met with what she felt was a great loss. She could not realize that all that happened was for her uplifting, consequently she had been grieving for three months. She told me over the telephone she could not get up the courage to come to see me, but begged me to come to her.

I went, in the rain. Had she been perfectly normal, I assure you, I never would have gone to see her, as I have so little time to visit, playing or rather singing twice daily and writing these "helps to real beauty" every day. But I felt that she needed me, so away I went.

I was repaid in two ways: First, in the lesson it taught me, which I will pass on to you, my friends who read my little sermons; secondly, in the help I could give her.

Three months of weeping had reduced the once lovely blue eyes to sickly, red lidded, washed out little eyes of ugly green. Her cheeks were furrowed with tear lines and purple blotches. The beautiful golden hair had gray streaks over the ears and she had grown stout below the waist from sitting in a lounging position all day.

All this devastation had been caused by the self-pity she was suffering from, and lack of courage in controlling it.

All she could say was, "O, I am so miserable and unhappy." Then I began to laugh, at her and blame her for her conceit, for self-pity is the greatest possible conceit.

I told her I could positively cure her of her trouble as her suffering was more or less imaginary and was within herself. I first took her to a mirror (bless the one who invented them!). I made her look herself over from head to foot and truthfully tell me what she saw. At first she said, "I only see an ugly old woman."

Then I made her dissect herself, from her hair to her feet. Each feature had to be criticised, and before we left the mirror she was a changed woman; she really saw the amusing side of the situation and was laughing at herself, instead of crying. "Now," I said, "I have got you to the spot where you can start restoring yourself to your former natural state."

My first lesson was a success; she was in a receptive mood and was anxious to be lovely to look upon again. I made her promise to get up and out into the open, walk or drive into the country or park, breathe in the free, glorious air given to us all alike, then take her poor, faded face in hand (so to speak) and to nourish it again with the pure skin food that I have given out to so many, and bathe her tired eyes with cold tea leaves twice daily. (The tea leaves act both as a tonic to the eyes and an astringent to the lids, making them smooth and tight.)

I told her to use the witch hazel balm to heal the blotches on her skin scalded by her tears, to massage her lips, dried and distorted with sorrowful expression, massage her drooping chin, and brush her lovely hair back to brilliancy and, if need be, to wash it with a tea made from henna leaves, which will make light hair reddish brilliant and will darken the white locks.

I had a letter today from this woman, and the difference in her entire attitude toward life is remarkable. She sees how selfish and futile was her grief. She says I would not recognize the careworn, sorrowful woman I left only a few days ago.

She has found out what I learned years ago: That a woman's first duty is to herself, that she may be in a condition of mind and health to help and, if necessary, care for others. To use her own words: "I am once more breathing deeply of God's glorious air and thanking Him daily for it, my cheeks are becoming rosy, my skin is smoother and clearer already, my eyes have accepted the cooling tea leaves and shown their gratitude already, and my hair seemed to stand up in respect to you, my friend, for having recognized its weakness and saved it in time."

So, having brought that lovely woman to her own in thought and appearance, I feel that I have saved a soul from selfishness.

That woman will see life in a rosier light; her grievances will be secondary to those of others; she will keep others from letting themselves drop back into the vortex of selfishness. We must keep on the crest of the wave, always ready to help those who need us.

Remember: Our imaginary troubles are always a hundred times harder to bear than our real ones.

tain the words, and for every word he wrote he willed away more than $70,000.

Money gave him little trouble in his lifetime, although he accumulated over $3,000,000. When he made his will his just 45 words he passed it all over to millions seemed to concern him less; for his wife, Mary M. Costello, without stipulation, without entanglements, and appointed her administratrix to serve without bonds.

The will is the most novel that has ever been probated in this county in that it bequeaths the most money with the most brevity.

Costello's property, mostly mining, is in Arizona, where he started as a prospector.

Wife Is Accused

STOCKTON, Nov. 7.—Charging that his wife, Sallie M. Mills, urged their son, Carl Mills, to strike him, Theodore M. Mills yesterday brought suit for divorce. Mills says that his wife has treated him cruelly for 10 years. The plaintiff states in the complaint that his eye was blackened as a result of the blow inflicted by his son.

Artist's Bride

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Carlton Theodore Chapman, the marine and landscape artist, and Miss Aurelle Reynaud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Reynaud of Bronxville, will be married Wednesday. Owing to the fact that Mrs. Reynaud is in California, the wedding will be a quiet one.

Drives Him Insane

NEVADA CITY, Nov. 7.—Because he found another man locked in a room with his wife when he returned home unexpectedly from a mine at 11 p. m. Joe Rosa, an Italian, became violently insane and was locked in a padded cell at the county jail. The intruder escaped through a back window and disappeared.

F. A. H.—What you need, I should think, would be the deep breathing exercises and to live out of doors as much as possible. Keep your windows open at night and see that your diet is composed of plenty of milk and eggs. If you will send me a self-addressed envelope I shall send you a formula which will help the drying of your skin. This will be good not only for your face but for your hands and feet.

A. E.—Certainly pimples on the face can be cured. You probably have a severe case of acne. You must go on a strict diet. No pastry, no fats, no sugar—the simplest kind of food. Keep a great deal in the open air. If you will send me a self-addressed envelope asking for it, I shall give you a remedy which I think will help the pimples, although I do not think, in your case any local treatment will be of benefit without diet.

AN ADMIRER—I would advise you to use the bath bags instead of soap for your face. I shall mail you the recipe for these if you will send me a stamped self-addressed envelope asking for it. Upon going out in the cold put on plenty of good skin food; wipe off and cover with the usual amount of powder. Upon returning, if your skin burns, wipe it off with the following lotion: Five drams of lanolin, five drams of sweet almond oil, five drams sulphur precipitate, two and one-half drams peroxide of zinc and ten drops of extract of violet.

A. B. A.—Your trouble is bad circulation. I would suggest a daily warm bath and a cold spray in the morning and plenty of exercise in the open air. The deep breathing exercises will do you a great deal of good, and if you will send me a self-addressed envelope asking for them I shall send them to you. The lemon and buttermilk wash should be made fresh every day.

PHYLLIS K.—Are you sure that you buy your shoes large enough? If I were you I would go to some reputable shoe store and explain my difficulty to the man in charge, asking him to measure my feet and give me a pair of the best shoes of the proper size. If you do this I think you will have no trouble. Thank you very much for your wishes.

C. M.—There is nothing which will restore the color of hair except dye, and while white hair is always a cross to a woman, as she sees that her youth is flying, I would advise you to keep your hair in the best possible condition and allow the little tell-tale silver threads to come. If, however, you insist upon having your hair colored, go to a first-class hairdressing shop and have it done by a professional. You will find it very expensive if you have it done well, and it will also make you a perfect slave; but there are women who do this and whose hair is very beautiful. I have seldom seen hair colored by an amateur which was successful.

BOY'S STORY MAY WIN FREEDOM

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 7.—A remarkable story told by George Lavery, an 11-year-old newsboy of New Westminster, has raised doubt in police circles as to whether John Bozlik, now under arrest, really had any connection with the robbery of the Bank of Montreal at New Westminster. The boy says that on the day after the robbery he found a package containing $5000 in bills in the ravine under the Carnarvon street bridge and gave it to Bozlik, receiving $4 for himself.

Files Charges

WOODLAND, Nov. 7.—In her amended complaint for a divorce filed here yesterday, Nettie E. Vickroy, nee Bemmerly, a member of one of the best and wealthiest families in the county, charges W. U. Vickroy with participating in orgies in a notorious Sacramento roadhouse with a woman of questionable character. The complaint has created a sensation here.

AUTONOMY OF GREATER OAKLAND IS SAFE

ANNEXATION PLANK IS MISSING

Not Incorporated in Call of Governor for Special Session.

Omission Meets With Approval of People on This Side of the Bay.

The announcement from Sacramento that Governor Johnson has decided not to incorporate in his call for a special session on November 27 any proposition pertaining to the annexation of the bay cities meets with the approval of the people in general on this side of the bay. Those who have continuously fought the attempt of San Francisco to annex without consent, Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley, set forth that the matter is one that can well be left dormant in every quarter, particularly at this time, when conditions are such that the bay cities should unite in furthering the interests of the community as a whole by harmonious relations instead of inciting controversy during the construction period of the Panama Pacific Exposition.

A. A. Denison, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, who has in the past taken an active part in defeating the designs of trans-bay organizations in seeking to effect legislation that would permit the "gobbling up" of Oakland and vicinity by San Francisco, said today, in referring to the Governor's decision:

"Governor Johnson acted with sound judgment when he refused to include the annexation proposition in his call as it would be a discordant matter to intrude at a special session of the legislature. No good could possibly result at this time and there is no reason for the reopening of the question, which, so far as Oakland is concerned, is settled for all time. Today the credit of Oakland is gilded; the city is going ahead at a remarkable rate with the building of its city hall, schools, auditorium and harbor improvements, and is capable of working out its own destiny.

"Any agitation is simply to stir up animosity that would be a detriment to both communities."

Cowboys Uncover Old Desert Tragedy

"This Man Died Because He Knew Too Much" Is Found Attached to Skeleton.

SAN BERNARDINO, Nov. 7.—A tragedy of the old lawless days on the desert was unearthed today by cowboys east of Bear Valley, who found the leg bones of a man, to which was tied a board bearing the words, engraved with a jack-knife: "This man died because he knew too much." The rope by which the board was attached to the bone was rotted and the greater portion of the skeleton had been carried away by coyotes. The cowboys said that the victim evidently had known too much of the operations of cattle rustlers and bullion thieves in the early days. No effort will be made by the authorities to unravel the ancient mystery.

Dr. J. A. Hill Was Graduated From Chicago Veterinary College With Two Relatives of Alleged Murderess

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Mrs. Louise Vermilya, charged with the murder of Policeman Arthur Bissonette and suspected of having caused the death of at least half a dozen others, today settled down to a stay in the county jail hospital until her next hearing, November 28.

That some other person may be connected with her was indicated by a statement of Assistant State Attorney Burnham, who said that in all probability Mrs. Vermilya and "others" would be indicted by the November grand jury, which will meet next Monday.

KNEW HER SON.
ALAMEDA, Nov. 7.—Dr. J. A. Hill of 1516 Oak street, this city, was a classmate at the Chicago Veterinary College of the son and stepson of Mrs. Louise Vermilya, who is under arrest in Chicago on suspicion of having poisoned several men, including her stepson, F. F. Brinkamp. Brinkamp's body is to be exhumed to determine if any traces of poisoning can be found.

Brinkamp, his stepbrother, R. F. Vermilya, and Dr. Hill were graduated from the Chicago Veterinary College in 1908. Hill had not kept track of his classmates since graduation. Dr. Hill has frequently seen Mrs. Vermilya, but was not acquainted with her.

Brinkamp, who had been divorced from his wife, now Mrs. Hazel West of New York, died in Chicago about a year ago. Mrs. West is quoted as saying before she and Brinkamp were divorced, that she feared that some evil fate might overtake them. They did not mention the specific reason for their dread, but Mrs. West recalled this significant feature of the Vermilya case when Brinkamp died.

As she was divorced from Brinkamp, Mrs. West made no move to have his death investigated.

Mrs. Vermilya is suspected of being concerned in the deaths of eight persons, either members of her circle of immediate friends or relatives. Richard T. Smith, a former husband, is believed to be one of the victims.

Congressman Knowland to Introduce Solon to Local Business Men.

Coming to Oakland to Inspect Progress Along the Water Front.

Congressman Joseph R. Knowland today received a dispatch from William E. Humphrey, stating that the latter would be in Oakland about November 17. Congressman Humphrey of the State of Washington is the only member of the House committee on rivers and harbors west of the Mississippi river. He is coming to Oakland for the purpose of surveying what has been done in the harbor of Oakland and the port of San Francisco in the way of improvement and what is still desired.

He has asked Congressman Knowland to prepare an itinerary and to invite Congressman Julius Kahn, of San Francisco, to join with him and Knowland in the coming tour of inspection.

Congressman Knowland said today that he would prepare such itinerary at the earliest possible moment and would arrange to have Congressman Humphrey meet the representative business men of Oakland and the San Francisco bay district so that they might have an opportunity of expressing their views on necessary harbor improvements not only for the present moment but for the future, when Oakland will be the great industrial city of the Pacific coast.

CLARK SILENT ON FLOATING RUMORS

Refuses to Deny or Affirm Report That He Intends to Resign.

Dr. W. A. Clark, head of the Alameda County Infirmary, who yesterday was criticised before the Board of Supervisors by Adolph Uhl, speaking for the Alameda Tax Payers Association, the speaker recommending that the physician be required to devote his entire services to the county institution, refused today to either affirm or deny a report that he is contemplating handing in his resignation to the Board.

Some members of the board have openly asserted that they would no longer favor any division of attention on the part of the resident physician at the infirmary. On the other hand Dr. Clark maintains that he gives his personal supervision to all surgical cases and to the management of the hospital and infirmary. As a specialist in a number of branches of surgery, Dr. Clark has often been called upon to supervise operations in private institutions.

For the last eighteen years the county infirmary has been under his management and in numerous ways he has effected a large saving to the county by utilizing such resources as he had at his command.

In company with a number of other Chambers the local body is considering the passage of resolutions asking that the Oregon have this position, and that she be temporarily commanded by Rear Admiral Charles Edgar Clark, U. Proper prominence given to Oakland on the program for the biennial convention of the United States Federation of Women's Clubs next June in San Francisco is wanted by the local chamber of commerce. TAFT TAKES 7 MINUTES TO VOTE

Supports Woman Candidate for Position on City School Board.

"I'm a Lawyer," Says President; "I Want That Known; I May Need Business."

CINCINNATI, Nov. 7.—President Taft cast the ballot that he traveled several hundred miles and gave up a day's vacation at Hot Springs to cast here today. The President voted at a precinct two blocks from where he used to live. He went to the polling place in an automobile from the home of his brother, C. P. Taft, accompanied by a detail of Cincinnati police.

The President had no trouble obtaining his ballot and was in the booth for seven minutes after depositing his ballot under the eye of an election judge Taft returned to his brother's home.

The program mapped out for the President today included luncheon with the Cincinnati Manufacturers' Club and an address to the American Society for the Judicial Settlement of International Disputes.

QUALITIES AS VOTER.
Taft qualified as a voter in Cincinnati yesterday. He appeared personally before the Cincinnati election board, and later, before the election judges in his own precinct, and went through the steps required by law. "I'm going to vote early tomorrow, you know early voting is the right way," said the President last night. The President announced his intention of voting the Republican ticket. There has been criticism of this announcement here on the score that in so voting Taft will support the candidates of the so-called boss, George B. Cox, about whom he spoke so bitterly at Akron, O., when he was secretary of war.

VOTES FOR WOMAN.
In voting today the President probably will cast the first ballot of any President of the United States for a woman. Taft will support the candidate for Miss Edith Campbell, candidate for member of the local school board.

"I voted for Miss Campbell," said the President, "because I think there should be women representatives on the school board. I think Miss Campbell's ability and qualifications."

Mr. Taft, accompanied by Mrs. Taft, Miss Helen Taft and Mrs. Thomas McLaughlin of Pittsburgh, a sister of Mrs. Taft, arrived in Cincinnati early yesterday. Shortly after breakfast the President took up his duties of a citizen who has been out of town but who wants to register and who wishes to vote.

He appeared before the election board and secured his certificate of registration just before 10 o'clock. Late this afternoon he motored out to 2008 Madison road, where he voted.

"Hello, gentlemen," said the President, as he walked into the polling place, which is on the first floor of an unpretentious furniture shop. The election board arose, doffed their hats, and said:

"Good afternoon."

"I wish to see if I am in the right pew," said the President, taking out the certificate he had secured earlier in the day and looking it over carefully. Richard Murphy, a Democrat, and one of the election judges, questioned the President.

"What is your occupation?" asked Murphy. "President of the United States?"

"Well," answered Taft, smiling, "just put me down as a lawyer; I want that known because I may need the business soon."

"You are President of the United States," said Murphy. "Well, put me down as President," assented Taft. "I can't deny that. Make it President of the United States and attorney."

Just before it was time for President Taft to leave his brother's home for luncheon today with the Manufacturers' Club he was visited by Governor Judson Harmon of Ohio. Later at the luncheon the President and Governor Harmon sat at the same table.

EAST END CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Alameda Improvement Takes Up Sidewalk Laying and Car Gates.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 7. — A concentrated effort will be made by the East End Improvement club for the construction of cement sidewalks in all parts of the city where they have not been laid, regardless of the fact that the property has been improved or not.

It was the unanimous opinion at the meeting held in the Lincoln school last night that some immediate action should be taken in the matter and President Alfred Morgenson and Treasurer Fred Krumb, members of the city council, were appointed a special committee to formulate the preliminary steps.

It is the plan of Morgenson that all the improvement clubs of the city take up the matter and to this end he will work.

Secretary Duncan C. Stevenson reported that he had communicated with the city council relative to the installation of two new tennis courts at Lincoln park and that he had been advised the matter would be taken up at the regular meeting of the council this evening.

Mr. Krumb stated that the park and playground committee of which he is a member, had reported favorably on the matter to the council.

The club will take up with the city council, requesting that the Southern Pacific company be asked to open the ground coaches at the Lincoln avenue, Park street station on the south side during the rush hours of the morning.

An actual count disclosed the fact that 75 per cent of the commuters lived on the south side and in alighting from the opposite side were forced to wait until the train had started up and left the station, or else walk several car lengths around its end.

PLAN BANQUET.
Alfred Freudenfeld, Frank Worth and Nelson G. Weiburn, were appointed a special committee to prepare for a banquet and jinks to be given by the club in the near future.

James Shepley was appointed secretary-treasurer of the Lincoln park band committee to succeed A. A. Cunningham, resigned.

The secretary was instructed to take up with the various other improvement clubs and the Chamber of Commerce relative to calling an open meeting for the purpose of discussing the electroliner question. Considerable complaint has been made against the electroliner and the matter will be fully discussed at the meeting, which will be held privately at the Chamber of Commerce.

The following named were elected to membership in the club: Ernest Wilson, John Simpson, Rosa Van Santa, H. J. Platts, Emil Leuenberger and Alvin Adams, secretary of the West End Improvement club.

MARE ISLAND TO HAVE BIG AVIATION SCHOOL

VALLEJO, Nov. 7. — Lieutenant John W. Mahasky, U. S. M. C., retired, for some time stationed at the Mare Island Barracks, has been spending some time at San Diego with students of the Curtiss school of aviation in regard to the establishment of an institution for the study of aviation under the personal direction of Glenn H. Curtiss. This school according to the present plan is to be under the supervision of the Navy Department.

While San Diego has endeavored to secure the school, yard officers who have made a study of aviation declare that the post will be established at the navy yard because ground is now available without increased cost. The close proximity of San Francisco as a base of supplies is another inducement to have the school at Mare Island.

The Daily Californian staff was hocked this morning when the University of Washington "Daily" was spread out on the table and on the first page was found the heading: "The university yell leader was shot and instantly killed this morning." The appended story had to do chiefly with rioting, and not with murder. The yell leader of the northern state college wasn't even half-shot.

CRUISERS PUT IN AT MARE ISLAND YARD

VALLEJO, Nov. 7. — The cruisers Rallich and Cincinnati and the naval transport Buffalo came up to Mare Island yesterday after their first "shake out" trip in the south at the mobilization of the Pacific fleet. The little gunboat Vicksburg is due today from the canal zone. The Cincinnati will be docked and the finishing touches for the trip to the China station will be applied this week. Much surprise was manifested today when it was announced that the Raleigh would be placed in second reserve instead of being detailed to the Orient as per orders from the Navy Department.

"Chet" Allen, custodian of the axe, will turn it over to his successor, whom he will name.

The men will meet at Harmon gymnasium at 4 p. m. and will go in a body to the First National Bank, where Allen will take the axe from its vault and will then lead the serpentine back to California.

The paraders then went to the north side, circling among the various chapter houses.

At the Theta Theta Pi house, where the varsity team is quartered, Captain Eli Hott appeared and spoke feelingly of the loyalty which the college rooters are showing in the support of the big game. Other speakers were Jay Divergence, Trainer Vols and Players Feat, Hansen, Carpenter and Stroud.

Coach Conitcar in writing mentioned his plans for the spring races. He stated that the northern men are fixing their schedules so that they may be able to compete at a time when both races can be held about the same time. A keen sense of rivalry has arisen in the Washington institution and they now look forward to the races with much interest.

From This Squad Manager Farmer Will Select the Team to Battle With Stanford

LAST DAYS OF PRACTICE HERE FOR RIVAL RUGBYITES

Manager Farmer Decides Upon Who Will Play for Blue and Gold, but Cardinal Line-Up Is Still a Guess

Five days hence the one big event in western athletics will be started on Stanford Field when the Rugby teams from the University of California and the University of Leland Stanford meet for the twenty-first time for supremacy on the gridiron. Interest always keen in a test of skill, brawn and brains when men of rich, red blood get together is greater this year than heretofore. With Stanford farther away than Berkeley as a seat of war the crowd may not be such a big one as would go to the campus in the Berkeley. But this much, 20,000 followers of the rival colleges will be on hand when the whistle blows and they can surely make up for those that stay at home.

Almost every seat has been sold and there will be a platform built on the south of the field so that any overflow of spectators may be taken care of.

This addition will accommodate a thousand or more so one can almost figure the crowd if he or she has ever been on the Stanford field.

LITTLE HARD WORK FOR MEN NOW. It is hardly likely that the men handling the two teams will call upon them for much work from now on. Both teams have had a strenuous season of practice and the final days before the game will be taken up in perfecting the team.

BROWN PROMISES TO PLAY. It is almost a certainty that Fulbright Brown will be back in harness for the Cardinal and this fact makes the followers of Stanford cheerful.

Erbe, Geisler and Kern will most likely be the three-quarter backs. They have been playing these positions all season and are all good both on attack and defense.

The first five-eighths position will be filled by Harrison, who played there last year. Harrison has improved in his game and is passing, running and kicking well this season. The second five eighth might be given to Noble, Reeves or Rieling, and the prophets on the campus are not at all unanimous in regard to which of the three will be the choice.

For the halfback position, sprained his ankle last Saturday and the trainers are working on him. If he is right he'll be the halfback.

Haley and Sanborn are considered fixtures in the front rank of the scrum. W. L. Smith has been out of the game for several weeks, but if he is able to play he appears to have the first end on the team from rank position, although Corbett is a strong contender. Dole and Partridge are assured of the middle rank positions.

For the breakaway forwards, Frank and Gard are the leading candidates, with Watkins close behind them. Woodcock has been playing so well in the past two weeks that he may get into the team at the last moment. He is a versatile scrummer and can play equally well in the front or rear ranks.

BLUE AND GOLD SETTLES LINE-UP. California's team is practically settled. Schaeffer is keeping his own counsel, but the only doubt in the minds of the students is in regard to the fullback position. Should Schaeffer decide to go out in that position Evans would be switched into the fifteen at wing three-quarter. If Pearl remains at his usual place on the wing, Price or Beavins will fill the fullback place.

Watts and Allen at five-eighths and Morris at halfback are all veterans of last year's victorious team, and ex-they have been playing in most of the preliminary games. It is not likely that any of them will be missing from his accustomed place when the whistle blows on Saturday.

The men who will be most missed this year are Jordan and Harris, rear rank forwards who were of incalculable value to the California team a year ago. The transference of Pauly from the front rank to Harris' place will fill that gap, as Pauly is playing a remarkable game at present and has many of the characteristics of the man whose place he is taking. Like Harris, Pauly seems to have an instinct for being in the right place at the right time.

DON'T FEAR FOR THEIR BERTHS. Hardy and Hansen have played practically unchanged all through the preliminary season and have no real competition for the positions in the middle rank. Both are excellent scrum men and their height makes them dangerous men in the line outs.

Carpenter and the Phleger brothers will be the front rankers. Carpenter was not in college last year, but he is a veteran of the 1909 team, which first brought a Rugby victory to Berkeley. Carpenter is a veteran of three seasons, and his brother Herman, although he has not yet won his C, has been close to it in the past three years that he is practically a veteran.

It is expected that the rival coaches will announce their line-ups on Thursday, and the form of the game will then be able to figure on the chances of the two teams.

California is fortunate in having had few critics during the season. The team down the peninsula has not been so lucky. All through the weeks of preliminary practice and right up to the present time there have always been some of the Cardinal prospects enlisted in the hospital corps. Reeves and Frank of last year's team have been out of the game for so long that it is even now doubtful if they will be included in the team. Frank is expected to be right before Saturday, but both men will probably be below their form on account of the protracted layoff.

A new form of ailment has been afflicting the football players has kept two mainstays off the field for a week or two. Captain Erb and the late victim of a "blood clot on the knee," the same trouble that put Kenneth Dole out of the game two weeks ago. It is stated that both these valuable men will take the field on Saturday, fit to play the game of their lives.

MANY ARE THE CRIPPLES. In addition to these men, Harrison, Geisler, Brown, Kern, Cass, Partridge, Smith, Corbett, Watkins and Noble are all veterans from injuries sustained in the preliminary matches. Even if most of them are able to get into the game, it is likely that there will be many limbs of doubtful soundness under the Car-

CALIFORNIA PLAYERS BEGIN TRYOUTS FOR GOLF TOURNEY

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Nov. 7.—Tryouts for the California golf team which will meet Stanford on November 18 have commenced. The qualifying rounds started yesterday on the Claremont Country club's links, which have been extended to accommodate the team for its use during the first three days of this week. Further tryouts will be continued today and tomorrow.

At the meeting of the association held at the Chi Phi house yesterday afternoon cards were given out to 24 aspirants for places on the team to meet Stanford.

The present tryouts are being conducted as a regular tournament. The men making the eight lowest scores during the present three days will qualify for the final which will be played on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Out of these eight men the two best players will be selected to oppose the Cardinals' team on the Saturday following the intercollegiate Rugby contest.

Not only has the Claremont Country club extended the use of its course for the Blue and Gold players to practice upon, but has also consented for the intercollegiate match to be played there.

R. R. A. C. PLAYERS TOO FAST FOR STROLLERS

The R. R. A. C. baseball team of East Oakland defeated the Strollers of Oakland by the score of 22 to 8.

The feature of the game was the all-around playing of the winners. Batteries: R. R. A. C.—Anderson, Garcia and Abren; Strollers—Kelly, Thelms and Shapen.

dinal uniforms, and it is not at all unlikely that many of these half-sound members will give way under the gruelling struggle that is before the boys on Saturday.

In order that no more chances of injury may be taken, Coach Presley has decided to hold no scrimmages this week and the afternoon's practice from now until Thursday will consist entirely of passing, dribbling and line-out work.

That Presley will have a difficult task in selecting his team is obvious. With his entire squad in perfect condition there would be several places for which two or more men are so closely matched that the coach would have to do some close figuring. But with the matter of a player's ability to last through the game in question, it will be even more difficult selecting the fifteen. Sometimes a man of less brilliancy is more useful to a side than a damaged star.

FREMONT HIGH TRIMS RUGBY SQUAD FROM RENO SCHOOL

The Fremont high school rugby team defeated the Reno high school team of Nevada yesterday afternoon at Recreation park, Alameda, by the score of 11-0 in a bitterly contested Rugby game.

Although superior to their opponents in the scrimmage, Reno was unable to cope with the long passing and dribbling rushes of the Fremont team, which greatly outweighed the boys from Nevada. At the opening of the game Reno played a strong offensive game against their opponents and all but scored on them; but Fremont came back strong in the middle of the half and after a short period of play on Reno's line scored from McElrath on the field goal for a try. The same player also converted the try.

In the second half, after a passing rush, Smith passed to August, who scored the second try, with the kick to convert. A few minutes later Smith, himself, scored after a similar passing rush, with McElrath again failing to convert, leaving the final score 11-0 in favor of Fremont. Following are the players and their positions:

Reno High—McCubbin, L. McCubbin, Bryant, Cottrell (Limburger), Harvey, D. Barker, Rains, Cravovich, Harvey, Caffrey, forwards; J. Bulke, halfback; Conway, Bruce, five-eighths; Laveaga, Bonney, three-quarters; McKinnley, Caffrey, fullbacks.

Fremont High—Mulholland, Weeks, Ogden, Wetton, McGrath, Olsen, King, Wells, forwards; Moore, halfback; Meadows, McDonald, five-eighths; Samuels, Smith, Parker, three-quarters; Rand, Hicks, fullbacks.

PRINCETON TIGERS TO BEGIN REAL HARD FIELD WORK

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 7.—The Princeton football squad began today in earnest the work of preparing for the game with Yale two weeks hence.

Every effort will be made in the next ten days to develop an offensive team for use against Yale. A defensive team, such as Princeton had last Saturday, will depend to some extent upon luck and individual power for their scores, and this is far from the ideal Tiger coaches want.

The difficulty in Princeton is not the lack of ability in the backfield, but the failure of forwards to get off speedily. These men have not been able to make the hole consistently for their assaulting backs at any time this season.

THERE IS NO TOWN LIKE THE OLD TOWN. Bill Hogan, the former Oakland outfielder, who made good with the St. Louis Americans after a short stay with the Athletics this spring, is one player who does not care for the glamour of the big league. Hogan comes out flat-footed with the statement that he would rather stick on the Pacific coast and would welcome a change.

LAFAYETTES WIN FROM FAST LINCOLN TEAM Yesterday afternoon the fast Lafayette handball team played and defeated the Lincoln school team after an exciting contest by a score of 21 to 10.

CALIFORNIAN ENTERED IN SIX-DAY RACE BUFFALO, Nov. 7.—Nine teams are competing in Buffalo's annual six-day bicycle race, the Army of the Seventy-fourth Regiment, National Guard, starting yesterday afternoon. Among the starters are Jackie Clark, Australia; Walter Devorah, and Percy Lawrence, San Francisco; Pedlar Palmer and E. A. Pye, Australia, and Jumbo Wells, New Zealand.

Two Football Men in Serious Condition From Injuries ANDERSON, Ind., Nov. 7.—Two football players who received injuries here Saturday are thought to be dying.

Bruce Adams of the Farmington team had his back broken and has been unable to walk since he was carried off the field.

Richard Brown of the Anderson-Brooks team had a lung punctured by a couple of his ribs.

Physicians said today that both men are in a critical condition.

Yes, They Do Expect Some People at the Big Game

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—Between 20,000 and 25,000 persons are expected to witness the annual Rugby football contest between the University of California and Stanford University to be played at Palo Alto next Sunday. More than 15,000 tickets have already been sold, netting about $40,000. The total will amount probably to more than $50,000. At the game last year there were 24,000 persons present. The odds favor California at 10 to 7.

BAUM AND EWING ARE OFF FOR TEXAS TO BEGIN A FIGHT

Allan T. Baum and Cal Ewing started for Cincinnati yesterday. They will meet Garay Hermann and the rest of the commission November 10 and the session promises to be a hummer.

The Coast League leaders want the prize raised in the drafting game. Twenty-five hundred dollars is the price they will demand. Fifteen hundred is what they get now for each player.

Every effort will be made in the next ten days to develop an offensive team for use against Yale. A defensive team, such as Princeton had last Saturday, will depend to some extent upon luck and individual power for their scores, and this is far from the ideal Tiger coaches want.

The difficulty in Princeton is not the lack of ability in the backfield, but the failure of forwards to get off speedily. These men have not been able to make the hole consistently for their assaulting backs at any time this season.

CALIFORNIANS ARE IN BIG SIX-DAY RACE MEET The University of California soccer 11 expect to give a good account of themselves in the first game of the intercollegiate series with Stanford at Palo Alto next Saturday morning. Soccer is being played for the first time in California while Stanford has played it for the last two years. Ever since the beginning of the season the players of the men have improved and last Saturday the college 11 held the independents down to a score of 10 to 0.

The 11 that will represent California against the Cardinals on the soccer field has practically been settled upon. Gordon Davidson, captain of last year's varsity crew, and a soccer player of experience, will play at goal. He has been putting up a fairly good game in the position all season.

Tom Davidson and Joe Shell will play backs, while the half are Miller, Douglas and Cook. In the forward division are Mills, Needham, Thorp, Riddick and Leach.

Some hard practice kicks will be put in during the next few days under Coach Williamson.

CROFFROT HAS THE PERMIT. The San Francisco Board of Supervisors yesterday granted the professional fight permit for November to the Shasta Athletic Club. Supervisors Gallagher, Cutton, Kelly and Murdoch voting no.

An amateur contest permit was granted the North End Athletic Club for November 10 and another was given the White Rock Club for the same month, the exact date not being specified.

The Supervisors also granted a permit for boxing entertainment to be given by the Dresden Club, other organizations assisting, on November 17, for the benefit of the mother of Frank McConner, the young boxer who was severely injured in an athletic contest two years ago.

THOMAS AND HOLLAND GET DOWN TO HARD TRAINING

Rival Middleweights Preparing for Grueling Bout Before Wheelmen on Night of November 15

Middleweights will occupy the center of the pugilistic stage for the next few months if the plans of the Oakland Wheelmen's Club are carried out. It is the intention to pit the winner of the bout which will be held on November 15 at Piedmont Pavilion with Frank Klaus, who is really the champion of his class, as Billy Papke has not only announced his retirement but his defeat at the hands of Bob Moha, a practically unknown boxer, the other night in Boston, eliminates the Keweenaw boxer from the field.

Joe Thomas, who is to clash with Fritz Holland in the ten-round whodup on Wednesday night, is going to be the most formidable men in his class today. Klaus had just as much trouble in whipping Hanson as Thomas did, and Dave Mills, who is sparring with Thomas, states that Joe is a harder hitter and a much faster man than Klaus. Mills boxed at Al White's with Klaus when the latter was in training for his fight with Montana. Dan Sullivan and should know who is the better man.

Mills claims that Klaus tried his best to stow him away during the training period but that he couldn't feaze him, while in his regular afternoon sessions Thomas hurts him more with his glancing punches than Klaus did when the latter was going at his best clip.

BIG FELLOWS ARE WELCOME. The big fellows will be welcome at the Wheelmen's club, as the little boxers have had such a monopoly of things lately that a change will be welcome. Tim McGrath, the veteran trainer and handler of pugilists, has taken Holland under his wing and is schooling him in the fine points of the game and his figures that the youngster will surely stop Thomas inside of ten rounds.

It is McGrath's intention to send Holland to fight all of the big game he defeats Thomas. Fritz is working at the Western club in San Francisco and is doing his work in the Golden Gate park. Thomas, as usual, is doing his training at Al White's place at Fremont's park, and the boy is rounding into grand condition.

The matchmaker of the club is now in communication with Klaus and the Pittsburgh scrapper has signified his willingness to come here to box the winner. With this much guaranteed the two middleweights who are to tangle on November 15 can be depended upon to put up a bruising mill, as victory will mean a lot to the winner in the shape of future engagements.

MAYBE JIM HAS A MATCH. Jimmy Coffroth gathered the fight permit for the month and went to work to gather the fighters. Sunshine thinks he has landed Packy McFarland and Harley Tommy Murphy as a card. Let us hope that Packy will really consent to fight someone that is a fighter and that he gets into the ring before he changes his mind, as he often does.

Thanksgiving day, Wolgast and Welch tangle at the same time in Los Angeles. A match between the winners should be the best in the lightweight division since Ad Wolgast downed the "Dattling Dame" at Point Richmond. McFarland's chief aim in coming here is to challenge the southern victor.

Harlem Tommy is a whirlwind fighter with lots of cleverness, and though he may not be equal to the task of beating McFarland, there should be plenty of action when they hook up.

The largest shareholders are H. A. Jastro, Sarah L. Conner as administratrix of the C. L. Conner estate, Conner having been president of the bank; S. Wright Jewett, Phlois Jewett, Mrs. T. A. Moncre and R. McDonald.

A HARMLESS WAY TO DARKEN THE HAIR

Who does not know the value of sage and sulphur for keeping the hair dark, soft, glossy and in good condition? As a matter of fact, sulphur is a natural element of hair, and a deficiency of it in the hair is held by many scalp specialists to be connected with loss of color and vitality of the hair. Unquestionably, there is no better remedy for hair and scalp troubles, especially premature grayness, than sage and sulphur, if properly prepared. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this kind, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair

Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

If you have dandruff, or if your hair is thin or turning gray, get a bottle of this remedy from your druggist today, and see what it will do for you.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

ONE WEEK OF 'SEVEN DAYS' MEANS MANY MERRY HOURS

Famous Comedy
Here for Happy,
Long Stay

Company Is Good and Play Has Improved
With Its Age

(By Roswell Dague.)

"Seven Days" of fun and frolic is what the Macdonough is offering this week, not actually seven days of it, for the management has condensed the stay of this merry farce into six, but "Seven Days" of mirth is enough to captivate the most captious. This isn't the first time we of Oakland have seen the play, for it paid us a visit last year after three busy weeks in San Francisco, but seeing it again after the absence of the year is like renewing acquaintance with the best of friends, you welcome it with open arms.

Surely, this is just about the farce par excellence of these modern times. Farces come and farces go and few linger by the wayside. This is one of them, though, this tale of a party of more or less un congenial people quarantined in the same house for seven days by a small-pox scare. They say you've got to go camping with a man to really know him. Well, it surely can't be any better a test than to be capped up in the same house with him and behold him, and her, in this case—in all the glory of borrowed clothes, not enough to eat, curl papers and kimonos and all the rest of the book, "When a Man's Married," from which the play was made by her in collaboration with Avery Hopwood, says the story is based on actual fact, it certainly isn't improbable this happening, but surely the people who went through the thing in real life never came out of it in twos, like animals from the ark, all happily paired off, as these people in the play do.

NOT A DRAWBACK.

That's no drawback to the play, though. In fact, if it has a drawback the writer would like to know just what it is. Surely, after you've seen a farce where the chief fun depends on the unexpected happening three times, you're pretty certain to know where the dull places are. But when each time you laugh so that you're actually ashamed of yourself, it ought to serve as a fairly safe guarantee of the fun of the entertainment. And evidently there are more than a few who have the same feelings about the play to account for its three years' life in New York, that city where half-successes are no successes, and its five weeks in San Francisco within two seasons. True, the audience of last night was small, but, rarely does it not continue to be so where there must be so many theater-goers who appreciate good things.

As for the company, upon which, so much depends in the successful playing of a farce, have no fears that because this is the second season, it is not up to the first year's standard. Not a bit of it.

Scene from "Seven Days," one of the funniest comedies ever written, which is at the Macdonough.

The whole production is just as spick and span and as generally snappy as the former one and in some respects is an exact duplicate. That applies to some of the players, to Aubrey Beattie, who is the "slightly stout" James Wilson, to Melville Winthrop, his divorced wife, and to Florence Robinson, his Aunt Selina, all of whom have before won the public liking for their work in their respective roles. It's a pleasure to see them back again, and to see them doing just as serious and conscientious work as they did before.

How could anyone say that "nobody loves a fat man" when anyone can see Beattie? Anyway, he isn't so very fat, and he is distinctly unctious. And as for Florence Robinson, we have been welcoming her here at intervals over a number of years, always in dowager character roles which she makes all her own. There was her "Jane Putnam," strong-minded maiden lady, in support of Lawrence D'Orsay in "The Earl of Pawtucket," her parvenu, "Mrs. Dare," with Florence Roberts in "The Strength of the Weak," and her "Mrs. Van Gorkem," a breezy widow, in "The Stronger Sex," a play in which Maude Fealy made a short starring tour on the coast several years ago. In all she did good work and continued to do it as the "Aunt Selina," whose coming causes all the trouble in this jolly melange.

Of the new people, Grace Valentine as "Kit," the unmarried woman of the cast, excepting, of course, dear "Aunt Selina," she is a distinct improvement over her predecessor in the role. She is attractive to look upon, even under all the disadvantages of appearance in "The Cold Gray Dawn of the Morning After," and by a rather unusual voice with some especially rich tones which she uses well in the main, she presents an agreeable characterization as well as a well-acted one. But the joy of the women is Jean Patriquin, who made her debut at the Alcazar in San Francisco, several years ago, and now comes back as "Anne Brown," who "sees things." Her dead seriousness in everything she does and her conscientiousness of work at all times makes her performances one of the funniest of funny things.

ARE ALL GOOD.

The rest of the people are all good, with especial mention of Chauncey Monroe as "Dallas Brown," who "gets over" in a quiet, colloquial way, and Gordon Burby, who does the policeman and incidentally is responsible for the good stage direction. We who used to see him in the Margaret Anglin season at the old California theater never had an opportunity to see him do more than small roles, and possibly scarcely realized how good he could be.

Yes, "Seven Days" is a cycle of fun whether you have seen it before or not. If you haven't, by all means don't miss it, or you will miss one of the heartiest laughs of your life. Even the Englishman of the proverbial jokeless order who, so the story goes, "had a hard time to keep from laughing" at a certain funny man, must surely find his self-control going at this play, and be compelled to roar with the rest of us. And even if you have seen the play, it oughtn't to be hard to laugh once more at it. If you doubt it, try it, on the advice of one who did.

Irregular bowel movements lead to chronic constipation and a constipated habit ruins the system with impurities. HERBINE is a great bowel regulator. It purifies the system, vitalizes the blood and puts the digestive organs in fine vigorous condition. Price 50c. Sold by Wishart's drug store, 1001 Washington St.
